Arlington race season ends Saturday

The greatest race meeting in the history of Chicagoland comes to a close Saturday when Arlington Park winds up its highly successful meeting with the running of the famous Arlington Classic. In the Classic, Assault, termed "the horse of the year," and with victories in the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness and Belmont stakes to his credit, looks, on advance dope, to have the race at his mercy. But race fans are skeptical about "sure things" at Arlington Park which over the years has proven to be the greatest grave yard of champions in the country, especially in the big feature races.

Many an outstanding horse has come to Arlington, heralded as a world beater, only to wind up soundly beaten in some big stake race by some rank outsider. The mighty Whirlaway was among the greatest of all time that were forced to eat the dust of some long shot at Arlington Park.

And so the fans aren't too sure that Assault will run away with the Classic. Some long shot may come to life, as Lord Boswell, who has been chasing Assault all season and who reached top form in the Dick Welles handicap recently, may reach his peak that day and take the measure of the champion.

At any rate it will be a great race, worthy of the historic traditions of the event and it will be a gala closing day for one of America's greatest race meetings. A co-feature with the classic will be the Grassland Handicap which will be the final turf race run over Arlington's beautiful turf course.

The Classic and the Grassland and the presence of the mighty Assault will bring to Arlington Park one of the greatest crowds in its history and the record breaking meeting will come to a close with probably new records being written into the record books.

Mt. Prospect Legion to entertain delegates of 9th district

The Mt. Prospect Post No. 525 of the American Legion will act as hosts through their Commander, Ernest H. Rahn, to the delegates of the Ninth District of the Department of Illinois Monday evening, July 29, at the Mt. Prospect Country Club.

This meeting will represent the final assembly to be administered by the present group of officers headed by Commander Dr. L. Arthur Platts, who has achieved the enviable distinction of seeing the post increase its membership more than 50% of the previous year, namely to 9,600 members In addition to the tremendous increase, the number of posts within the district has increased from 32 to 45, thereby making it one of the largest districts in the Department.

The commander will call upon his chairmen of the various committees to submit their reports of activities for the past year, all of which will point out the actual participation of the district in programs to perpetuate the mandates of the American Legion.

A large number of delegates are expected to attend this meeting which is to be held in the main banquet hall of the Country Club.

Family of six find way to erect their own home

When the family of Walter Johnson, 1304 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, received word that the owner of the place rented by them desired to sell the property, they decided to do something about getting a new home.

The first step was the purchase of a half acre lot in Arlingrale on West Euclid. The next was the purchase of an old building from which material will be secured to erect the first unit of their new home, 20x30.

Their next move was the digding of the basement by man power with the aid of a tractor. Above shows the four sons, Walter, Kenneth, Robert and Marvin turning over the first scoop of dirt for the home that is going to be theirs in spite of the usual high labor costs and material shortages.

When asked what part she was performing, Mrs. Johnson told Paddock Publications, "I keep my five men well fed so they can do a good day's work."

Urge examination and registration for kindergarten

R. E. Clabaugh, superintendent of Arlington Heights Elementary schools, announced today that 45 pupils have completed their physical and dental examinations and have been registered for the public school kindergarten. Such examinations, followed by a conference with the school nurse, are required before the child is registered for school. The parent is asked to come to the office of the superintendent for this registration before the opening of school on September 4.

The blank to be used for these examinations can be secured from the superintendent's office by parents who were not contacted by the Summer Roundup committee of the Parent-Teacher Association this spring. Appointments for conferences with the school nurse may also be made by calling the superintendent's office, telephone 596.

Any child is eligible to enter kindergarten this fall who will be five years old on or before December 2, 1946. First grade children must reach their sixth birthday on or before the above date. Presentation of the child's birth certificate is required at the time of the child's first registration in this system if he has not previously been enrolled in school elsewhere.

In addition to the examination described above, the law of the state of Illinois also requires that children be examined at least every fourth year. This has been interpreted by the Arlington Hts. Boards of Education to mean previous to the child's entrance into fifth and ninth grades. Blanks for these examinations were distributed before the close of school in June. Parents who have misplaced these may secure those for the fifth graders at the North School and for ninth graders at the high school.

Palatine firemen offer pre-war prizes at carnival next week

Palatine firemen, who have gained a reputation for doing unusual things such as giving away fire trucks, firehouse, etc., went all-out this year in the selecting of prizes to be awarded at their annual festival which starts next Wednesday night, opposite the Palatine high school. The prizes are a Hot Point refrigerator, electric ironer, washing machine, three radios and two lawn mowers.

The good prizes do not end with the prize drawings. The boys have been able to secure for the bingo game such articles as old time aluminum wear, electric clocks, bath scales, Beacon blankets, card tables and other pre-war articles.

The firemen also have a heart for youngsters. Ice cream cones and pop will sell for only a nickle and hamburgers will be 20c. "We will not try to make money off the children," says Chief Comfort.

Radio Club opens restaurant and cocktail lounge

Jack Deynzer will see his dream of several years come true Saturday at five o'clock when the Radio Club Farm at Northwest Highway and Quintens road, Palatine, opens for business. It is a palatial place on which no expense has been spared to make it unique, attractive and ultra modern in conveniences that will appeal to those who enjoy good food. For the opening the management is bringing to the Farm the experienced help from the kitchen, bar and dining room of the Radio Club of 433 N. Wells, Chicago.

The unique part of the restaurant and cocktail lounge is the motif of the decorations that are of the Mayan and Aztec period. A huge canopy of brass with hand cut figures portraying those dynasties is augmented by shields of similar design throughout the restaurant and cocktail lounge through which light comes from flourescent tubes. Carrying the ancient motif still farther, the months of the aztec periods are in panels around the walls.

Knotty pine tables and arm chairs give the modern touch while a huge fireplace in the cocktail lounge adds a homey atmosphere.

Temptation calls boys to bulldozer

Hanky tore up the street as fast as his five year old legs would carry him. He was enroute from the new Arlington Park subdivision to the nearest Sherwood phone. As he reached his goal he asked the operator for number 6 and said to hurry.

"Hello, is this Skoog? Well you better come up to Sherwood quick, somethin awful's happening. This is Hanky and I'll wait in the middle of the street for you."

With that he hung up the phone, picked up his heels and raced back to the scene of the crime. Within a few minutes Skoog turned into the first road leading up to Sherwood, going through the Arlington Ridge and Arlington Park developments. He got as far as Arlington Park and sure enough, there was Hanky in the middle of the street, flagging him down.

"Over there, Skoog," yelled Hanky. "Those kids are trying to start that bulldozer, and it's against the law ain't it?"

Skoog looked from the young informer to the spot to which he was pointing. Atop the bulldozer were three or four nine year olds seriously figuring out the mechanism. In short order he had the youngsters on their way, giving them strict orders to keep off the said property.

He turned, grinned at the serious faced Hanky, thanked him for his watchful eye, got into the police car and drove away. Hanky strode home, feeling a very important little man, for all his five years.

18-year-olds must still register for Selective Service

Inquiries are frequently received at the Arlington Heights office of the Selective Service from boys reaching 18 years asking if they must register.

The answer is "yes." However, they will not be liable to call for service until they become 19 years of age. There have been a number of voluntary enlistments the past few weeks, also the number of reenlistments are increasing.

The local service board will receive credit on future quotas for all new enlistments. They receive no credit for re-enlistments. Discharged service men who desire to take advantage of their reenlistment rights must do so before October 1.

The office staff of the Arlington Heights board are not taking a vacation during the two months that inductions have been banned but are getting their records in tip top shape in anticipation of induction calls after Sept. 1.

The induction age has been raised to 35 years and it is important that those within that age group report any change in their personal status, such as children, etc.

Aldermen not sympathetic to reduction in tavern licenses

Palatine—

Palatine village board placed on file Monday night letters from several civic leaders requesting that the number of tavern licenses be reduced from five to three. (One tavern has gone out of business, the license of the second one has been revoked following a shooting in which two persons lost their lives).

No official action on the letters was taken by the Palatine board, the mayor of which is on vacation.

Attorney A. F. Wild appeared before the board in the interest of Richard Sanford who had been refused a license pending the disposition of a charge against him of violating the closing ordinance. Wild stated that Sanford had pleaded guilty to the charge before Judge Hartman and asked that the license be issued now that the books are clear.

Discussion by the board showed a consensus of opinion that when the records of the case are received from the judge, a license will be granted to Mr. Sanford.

The fifth tavern license is still available until such time as the board may elect to reduce the number of taverns.

The license fee in Palatine is $450, in Arlington Heights, $350.

Some of the aldermen are wondering if the increase in the price of drinks is sufficient for the tavern keepers to consent to a hike in the license fee.

Arlington Hts.—

The failure of the Arlington Heights board to call up for passage an ordinance prepared by Attorney Thal several months ago to restrict tavern licenses to eleven, has forced Mayor Goedke to issue the extra license and the number of taverns in Arlington is again an even dozen.

It was generally considered by the board that the status quo of eleven taverns would be maintained and that no additional licenses would be issued regardless of the ordinance. They learned differently, however when the applicant for the vacant license hired an attorney, who informed the liquor commissioner that court action would be started unless the license was granted.

The presentation of a petition signed by several hundred citizens asking that the number of licenses be reduced brought about orders to the attorney to draw the ordinance, on which no action was taken.

Expect new corn yield records

And still they come. Whenever you mention a winning horse some one comes up with another just as good, or better.

The stories are still rolling in to J. Fred Meyer, local representative of DeKalb Hybrid Seed. He has been reminded that last year's winner in Palatine township was Alfred Glade, with a production of 124.14 bushels per acre, having used DeKalb 410 seed.

Then in Elk Grove township the winner was Louis W. Pohlman with a yield of 120.36 bushels of DeKalb 404-A. Both of these top grade farmers are in the ring again this year, so hold your hats and watch them run.

If the weather man will only cooperate and give us a nice, all-night rain, this year's yield should be up to, or maybe exceed, last year's production.

St. Peter Deacons picnic held Sunday

The deacons of St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, together with Pastor L. V. Stephan and their families, held their annual picnic Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stade, North State road. The afternoon and evening were spent in playing games and outdoor sports. A picnic supper as well as a weiner roast at the close of the evening were enjoyed.

Polio takes Harry Gardner of Prospect Heights

Henry E. Gardner, known throughout Prospect Heights by his hundreds of friends as Harry, was suddenly stricken with Poliomyelitis late last week. He was taken to the Evanston hospital early Saturday morning and passed away that evening.

Harry was very active in community affairs in the late 30's. He married the popular Marilyn Sheppard and both were active members in all community affairs at that time. The Gardner's purchased their home at 301 East Olive prior to his enlistment in the U. S. Navy. After serving as a storekeeper at the Great Lakes Training Station for a period of two years he was transferred to Chicago, and later to active sea duty. He saw 10 months service on an LST in the Mediterranean area.

While home to visit his family in August, 1945, the war ended. He was discharged from the service September 13, at Toledo, Ohio, and took up life as a civilian again shortly thereafter. He returned to the brokerage business and had intended to become active again in community affairs this fall.

At the time of his death he was but 29 years of age. He was born November 26, 1916.

Funeral services were held at the All Saints Cemetery, Monday, July 22. He is survived by his wife and two children, Janice age 2½, and three month old son, Donald.

Arlington board offers principalship to Sioux City man

Arlington Heights High School Board of Education has offered the principalship of the local school to Theo R. Ehrhorn, principal of Sioux City, Iowa, schools. Mr. Ehrhorn is expected to give his answer to the Arlington board this week.

In the meantime H. L. Slickenmeyer is handling the affairs of the local school.

Fined $25 for closing violation

The charge against Richard Sanford, Palatine, for violation of the village closing ordinance was finally disposed of Tuesday evening. Mr. Sanford pleaded guilty before Judge Frank Hartman and was fined $25 and costs and the case was closed.

Sanford, with this charge out of the way, will be given a new license and a chance to make a fresh start.

M. F. EGDORF LEAVES FOR EAST LANSING, MICH.

M. F. Egdorf, who recently resigned his position as principal of the Arlington Heights high school, has assumed his duties as head of the East Lansing public schools. His family will remain in Arlington for a time.

Plan repairs at St. Peter school at voters meeting

A very encouraging voters' meeting was held last Wednesday, July 17, with 155 voting members present. Many fine projects were launched for the upbuilding and improvement of congregational property of St. Peter church, Arlington Heights.

Martin Meyer was presented by the pastor for voting membership. The army and navy collection will be held Sept. 22. The annual Mission Festival will be observed Oct. 13. Pastor H. Blanke of Chicago will preach in both morning services and the Rev. H. L. Pfotenhauer of Woodstock in the evening.

The voters resolved:

That the roof of the east side school building shall be properly and thoroughly repaired.

That acoustical tile coilings shall be installed in the 3 classrooms in the east building.

The boys' washroom shall be rebuilt and put in a sanitary condition as soon as the material is available at an approximate cost of $750.00.

That $175 be appropriated for a fitting memorial for veterans.

That the front porch on the parsonage shall be rebuilt and painted.

That the window sills and casings of school shall be painted.

Messrs. Wm. Neumann, John Pfingsten and Martin Freeman shall serve on the Post-War Planning Committee and Messrs. Ed. Hinz, Ed. Nagel and Carl Weinrich on the committee for remodeling the auditorium for school purposes.

That the church buy 200 copies of the report of the proceedings of the last District Convention which are to be sold to all those desiring a copy.

That Martin Freeman organize a cub pack among the younger boys of the congregation.

The painting of the parsonage and teacherages was postponed until next spring.

Head-on collision endangers house

Sunday noon a truck of the Friend Bros. Co. of Barrington, driven by Ray Willis, collided with an auto driven by Harold Nelson of Chicago. The collision occurred at Chicago ave. and Bothwell sts., Palatine.

Both vehicles met in a head-on collision. The occupants of the car and truck were slightly bruised and shaken up and were taken to the Palatine Community hospital for treatment.

The truck driver lost control and crashed into a tree following the collision. Mrs. Fred Harmening, who was at the back door of her home, saw the truck headed for her doorway and thought it was coming right into the house. The tree, however, fortunately intervened.

Bob Elson interviews Arlington Heights men

Oscar Kurtz and William Forrest of Arlington Heights, were aired on the Bob Elson show over WMAQ Monday night at 10:45. This is a program by electrical transcription, done earlier as people are boarding the famous Twentieth Century Limited for New York. Bob Elson's job is to seek out interesting personages to interview about their hobbies.

Mr. Kurtz is the Advertising Manager of the Lions magazine and is known as a puzzle expert. He edits the puzzle page of that magazine and Bob asked where he obtained all the puzzles used on the page. Mr. Kurtz told him that over 2,000 readers submit puzzles to him as well as send in answers to them.

Fly fishing and tying flies were Mr. Forrest's hobby but as Bob drew him out he found that Mr. Forrest was more enthused in tying the flies than he was in the actual fishing. He went on to say that the best fishing grounds are in Northern Wisconsin, near Tomahawk and Minocqua.

In the near future another Arlington man, Melvin Kurtz, will be interviewed on the program, talking on his hobby of collecting Indian arrow heads.

Voters approve school bonds 138 to 19

The voters of School District No. 25 approved an additional bond issue of $100,000 for the construction of the South School addition at the election held July 20 by a vote of 138 to 19.

This bond issue, with the $185,000 approved by the electorate on March 16, makes sufficient funds available for the completion of this project. The Board of Education will meet soon with the low bidders, as determined at the public opening of bids on June 28, to arrange for awarding contracts for the work.

Liquidate bonds in 5 years

According to the plan of maturities approved on July 20, the $100,000 bond issue will be liquidated during the next five years, thus avoiding the possibility of handicapping the district so far as bonding power for future building needs is concerned. The $185,000 bond issue approved on March 16 provides for retirement over a 20-year period.

Steps will be taken soon by the Board of Education to sell these bonds on the basis of competitive bidding on the basis of the lowest interest rate which can be secured. It is expected that an interest rate below the maximum of 2½% authorized at the election can be secured.

In addition to the facilities provided by the addition, certain much needed improvements in heating, lighting and arrangement of the present structure are included. It is the belief of the Board of Education that this project has been well and carefully planned and that it will provide the facilities for an excellent educational program.

R. R. weed-burner starts three fires

Arlington Heights firemen often warn the general public to be careful with weed burning, but the C. & N. W. R. R. is supposed to know better.

Three fires were started by a railroad weed burner this week. Sunday afternoon the department was called to the vicinity of Creamery Package Mfg. Co., where 200 ties were burning. Electric wires and a lead cable were in danger.

Tuesday afternoon and near midnight that evening firemen answered quiet alarms to extinguish a prairie fire cause by the weed burner and another tie fire.

Mt. Prospect fire department had a similar experience. At 11:10 Saturday morning a large pile of creosoted ties made a big blaze at the foot of Maple street. The fire department extinguished the blaze.

Note burning service at North Northfield church Sunday

The long heralded note burning ceremony will occur at Evangelical church of North Northfield Sunday night, starting at 7:30, when the congregation observes the first birthday of the new building. Occasion will also mark the 109th birthday of the congregation.

Special speaker will appear for the evening service, plus the closing exercises of the daily vacation bible school. The public is invited to attend this ceremony.

POLICEMEN DANCE TICKETS NOW ON SALE

Tickets for the Arlington Hgts. Policemen's dance are now being sold at 50c each. Many people are taking a block of tickets which means $5.00. The proceeds are for the police fund.

FRANK MEYER VERY ILL

Frank Meyer, 511 N. Evergreen, is very ill at the Belmont hospital where he has been operated upon. He has been confined to his bed seven weeks.

More swim, baseball tests lined up for play program

Pool is still favorite spot

The last competitive tournaments of the summer playground season are scheduled for next week at Arlington Heights parks. Final two contests will include the free throw and baseball throw, with competition for boys starting Monday and Tuesday for the girls.

The shuffle board tournament was a great success with a total of 65 competing in all the age groups.

The shuffle board results are as follows:

Midget girls: 1st, Suzane Franke; 2nd, Maureen Barrett; 3rd, Ann Gregory.

Midget boys: 1st, R. Weinrich; 2nd, A. Smith; 3rd, F. Burns.

Junior girls: 1st, M. Utterback; 2nd, Janet Siegel; 3rd, Joyce Haemker.

Junior boys: 1st, D. McAuliffe; 2nd, Bucky Randag; 3rd R. Helfers.

Inter. girls: 1st, Marlyn Young; 2nd, Arlene Busse; 3rd, Carol Orth.

Inter. boys: 1st, Robert Evans; 2nd, T. McAuliffe; 3rd, T. Cooper.

On August 14 at 10:00 in the morning there will be a moving picture shown of water activities and water ballet swimming. All children are invited to come to the field house that morning. If there are any adults interested, they are also welcome.

August 14 at 8:30 p.m. there will be a swimming show and exhibition to be staged by the American Red Cross and the swimmers of Arlington Heights swimming pool.

Wednesday, August 21 in the afternoon there will be a swimming tournament for all classes:

Midgets girls and boys.
Junior girls and boys.
Intermediate girls and boys.
Senior girls and boys.
Diving for Junior and Senior boys and girls.

Next week's issue will list events and distances for each group. Those interested are urged to sign up or see Mr. Vokac at the pool. There will be 1st, 2nd and 3rd place awards.

Towards the end of every summer, young children, especially those under ten years of age, tire easily. Pool authorities feel for the good of these children under ten, two hours of swimming a day is sufficient.

Thus, the Arlington Heights pool authorities are instigating a plan whereby boys ten years and under are allowed to swim daily from one to three o'clock, while girls of the same age are permitted in the pool from three to five o'clock. This affects the afternoon session only.

The park board feels such restrictive measures are necessary for the good of the children, in order to prevent overtiring, sore throats, colds, etc. Until now many youngsters have stayed in the pool four hours and have returned home worn out.

However, if some parents are willing to take things into their own hands and risk the chance of letting their youngster swim all afternoon, let them come down with the youngster, or send a sealed note saying that their child will be responsible to his or her parents, and can stay in the water all afternoon.

Friday, July 29, the boy and girl beginners, those who learned to swim this year, will have swim contests to qualify in the Red Cross swimming meet. Finals will be held in Chicago in Aug.

High school band concert this Friday at Arlington

The Arlington Heights summer band, under the direction of Fredrick C. Schmoyer, will present its weekly concert Friday evening at eight o'clock in Recreation Park. As usual, an interesting and entertaining program has been arranged.

The concert will begin with John Phillip Sousa's famous march, "King Cotton"; an overture, "The Gypsy Festival", by Al Hayes, is the second number on the program; the band then plays an old favorite made famous by Wee Bonnie Baker, "Oh Johnny, Oh Jonny, Oh!" "The Sunshine of Your Smile" by Lillian Ray continues the program; this is followed by Rudolph Friml's familiar "Song of the Vagabonds"; then the band presents a novelty by Carl Frangkiser called, "Three Blind Mice at the Night Club Floor Show", and plays as an encore the "Serenade" from The Student Prince, by Sigmund Romberg; Dale Williams plays as a baritone solo one of the most beautiful songs ever written, "None But the Lonely Heart", by Tschaikowsky: as the final two numbers on the program the band plays "My Heart Stood Still" from A Connecticut Yankee, by Richard Rodgers, and Olivadotis "March of Youth".

It's tax time again during August

The second installment of the 1945 real estate taxes will be payable during August and the township collectors will have their offices open during a part of the month for the collection of those taxes. Notices will soon be mailed by the collectors giving their various office hours and places of collection.

Penalty date on the second installment is September 1. Penalty date on the first installment and on all personal property bills was May 1. Past due personal property bills are now payable at the office of the state's attorney in the county building.

The township collectors are asking the cooperation of all second installment payers in paying their tax to the home town collectors. After a heavy collection throught the county at the time of the first collections, collections at this time are expected to be comparatively light.

Judge Neumann hits a daily double

William Neumann, Arlington Heights judge, hit the daily double the other day. The double part was two fees and two brides. Keeping a date at the municipal building to unite a Chicago couple in marriage, he found two autos and two couples desiring his service. They asked for a double ceremony.

The judge said that he knew how to marry one couple once, but to marry two couples at one and the same time could not be much different than marrying one couple twice. The ceremony that the judge cooked up at the moment seemed to satisfy the two brides and their husbands, each of whom promised to name their first child, "Bill".

"If that is not as good as any daily double at the race track, I want to know it," Barber Neumann told his first customer after he returned to the shop.

The contracting parties were Edwin J. Pickley, Emily E. Ackerman and Harold K. Warner, and Elizabeth M. Regan.

Plan to form youth center leaders group

July 4th profit near $3,000

The profit from Arlington Heights July 4th celebration will be in the neighborhood of $3,000. The final figures will not be available for another ten days. While the figure is not as large as in some years, it is considered very good, considering that easy money concessions were ruled out this year, and no attempt was made to solicit contributions from business interests.

The gross receipts were considerable over $10,000.

The following youth center leaders, Mrs. Dorothy Schlundt of Elmhurst, Mrs. Muriel Mills of Arlington Heights, and Mrs. Elizabeth Newport of Palatine, met last Thursday for luncheon in the Walnut room at Marshall Fields. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the possibility of organizing a youth center leaders group. With an organization of this type ideas could be exchanged and programs for joint entertainment or recreation might be worked out, thus promoting inter-community relationships.

Another meeting has been planned for Sunday, July 28, at 2 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Mills, 544 South Highland, Arlington Hgts. Any nearby youth center leaders interested in such an organization are invited to attend.

The prizes are a Hot Point refrigerator, electric ironer, washing machine, three radios and two lawn mowers.

The good prizes do not end with the prize drawings. The boys have been able to secure for the bingo game such articles as old time aluminum wear, electric clocks, bath scales, Beacon blankets, card tables and other pre-war articles.

The firemen also have a heart for youngsters. Ice cream cones and pop will sell for only a nickle and hamburgers will be 20c. "We will not try to make money off the children," says Chief Comfort.

Radio Club opens restaurant and cocktail lounge

Jack Deynzer will see his dream of several years come true Saturday at five o'clock when the Radio Club Farm at Northwest Highway and Quintens road, Palatine, opens for business. It is a palatial place on which no expense has been spared to make it unique, attractive and ultra modern in conveniences that will appeal to those who enjoy good food. For the opening the management is bringing to the Farm the experienced help from the kitchen, bar and dining room of the Radio Club of 433 N. Wells, Chicago.

The unique part of the restaurant and cocktail lounge is the motif of the decorations that are of the Mayan and Aztec period. A huge canopy of brass with hand cut figures portraying those dynasties is augmented by shields of similar design throughout the restaurant and cocktail lounge through which light comes from flourescent tubes. Carrying the ancient motif still farther, the months of the aztec periods are in panels around the walls.

Knotty pine tables and arm chairs give the modern touch while a huge fireplace in the cocktail lounge adds a homey atmosphere.

Temptation calls boys to bulldozer

Hanky tore up the street as fast as his five year old legs would carry him. He was enroute from the new Arlington Park subdivision to the nearest Sherwood phone. As he reached his goal he asked the operator for number 6 and said to hurry.

"Hello, is this Skoog? Well you better come up to Sherwood quick, somethin awful's happening. This is Hanky and I'll wait in the middle of the street for you."

With that he hung up the phone, picked up his heels and raced back to the scene of the crime. Within a few minutes Skoog turned into the first road leading up to Sherwood, going through the Arlington Ridge and Arlington Park developments. He got as far as Arlington Park and sure enough, there was Hanky in the middle of the street, flagging him down.

"Over there, Skoog," yelled Hanky. "Those kids are trying to start that bulldozer, and it's against the law ain't it?"

Skoog looked from the young informer to the spot to which he was pointing. Atop the bulldozer were three or four nine year olds seriously figuring out the mechanism. In short order he had the youngsters on their way, giving them strict orders to keep off the said property.

He turned, grinned at the serious faced Hanky, thanked him for his watchful eye, got into the police car and drove away. Hanky strode home, feeling a very important little man, for all his five years.

18-year-olds must still register for Selective Service

Inquiries are frequently received at the Arlington Heights office of the Selective Service from boys reaching 18 years asking if they must register.

The answer is "yes." However, they will not be liable to call for service until they become 19 years of age. There have been a number of voluntary enlistments the past few weeks, also the number of reenlistments are increasing.

The local service board will receive credit on future quotas for all new enlistments. They receive no credit for re-enlistments. Discharged service men who desire to take advantage of their reenlistment rights must do so before October 1.

The office staff of the Arlington Heights board are not taking a vacation during the two months that inductions have been banned but are getting their records in tip top shape in anticipation of induction calls after Sept. 1.

The induction age has been raised to 35 years and it is important that those within that age group report any change in their personal status, such as children, etc.

Aldermen not sympathetic to reduction in tavern licenses

Palatine—

Palatine village board placed on file Monday night letters from several civic leaders requesting that the number of tavern licenses be reduced from five to three. (One tavern has gone out of business, the license of the second one has been revoked following a shooting in which two persons lost their lives).

No official action on the letters was taken by the Palatine board, the mayor of which is on vacation.

Attorney A. F. Wild appeared before the board in the interest of Richard Sanford who had been refused a license pending the disposition of a charge against him of violating the closing ordinance. Wild stated that Sanford had pleaded guilty to the charge before Judge Hartman and asked that the license be issued now that the books are clear.

Discussion by the board showed a consensus of opinion that when the records of the case are received from the judge, a license will be granted to Mr. Sanford.

The fifth tavern license is still available until such time as the board may elect to reduce the number of taverns.

The license fee in Palatine is $450, in Arlington Heights, $350.

Some of the aldermen are wondering if the increase in the price of drinks is sufficient for the tavern keepers to consent to a hike in the license fee.

Arlington Hts.—

The failure of the Arlington Heights board to call up for passage an ordinance prepared by Attorney Thal several months ago to restrict tavern licenses to eleven, has forced Mayor Goedke to issue the extra license and the number of taverns in Arlington is again an even dozen.

It was generally considered by the board that the status quo of eleven taverns would be maintained and that no additional licenses would be issued regardless of the ordinance. They learned differently, however when the applicant for the vacant license hired an attorney, who informed the liquor commissioner that court action would be started unless the license was granted.

The presentation of a petition signed by several hundred citizens asking that the number of licenses be reduced brought about orders to the attorney to draw the ordinance, on which no action was taken.

Expect new corn yield records

And still they come. Whenever you mention a winning horse some one comes up with another just as good, or better.

The stories are still rolling in to J. Fred Meyer, local representative of DeKalb Hybrid Seed. He has been reminded that last year's winner in Palatine township was Alfred Glade, with a production of 124.14 bushels per acre, having used DeKalb 410 seed.

Then in Elk Grove township the winner was Louis W. Pohlman with a yield of 120.36 bushels of DeKalb 404-A. Both of these top grade farmers are in the ring again this year, so hold your hats and watch them run.

If the weather man will only cooperate and give us a nice, all-night rain, this year's yield should be up to, or maybe exceed, last year's production.

St. Peter Deacons picnic held Sunday

The deacons of St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, together with Pastor L. V. Stephan and their families, held their annual picnic Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stade, North State road. The afternoon and evening were spent in playing games and outdoor sports. A picnic supper as well as a weiner roast at the close of the evening were enjoyed.

Polio takes Harry Gardner of Prospect Heights

Henry E. Gardner, known throughout Prospect Heights by his hundreds of friends as Harry, was suddenly stricken with Poliomyelitis late last week. He was taken to the Evanston hospital early Saturday morning and passed away that evening.

Harry was very active in community affairs in the late 30's. He married the popular Marilyn Sheppard and both were active members in all community affairs at that time. The Gardner's purchased their home at 301 East Olive prior to his enlistment in the U. S. Navy. After serving as a storekeeper at the Great Lakes Training Station for a period of two years he was transferred to Chicago, and later to active sea duty. He saw 10 months service on an LST in the Mediterranean area.

While home to visit his family in August, 1945, the war ended. He was discharged from the service September 13, at Toledo, Ohio, and took up life as a civilian again shortly thereafter. He returned to the brokerage business and had intended to become active again in community affairs this fall.

At the time of his death he was but 29 years of age. He was born November 26, 1916.

Funeral services were held at the All Saints Cemetery, Monday, July 22. He is survived by his wife and two children, Janice age 2½, and three month old son, Donald.

Arlington board offers principalship to Sioux City man

Arlington Heights High School Board of Education has offered the principalship of the local school to Theo R. Ehrhorn, principal of Sioux City, Iowa, schools. Mr. Ehrhorn is expected to give his answer to the Arlington board this week.

In the meantime H. L. Slickenmeyer is handling the affairs of the local school.

Fined $25 for closing violation

The charge against Richard Sanford, Palatine, for violation of the village closing ordinance was finally disposed of Tuesday evening. Mr. Sanford pleaded guilty before Judge Frank Hartman and was fined $25 and costs and the case was closed.

Sanford, with this charge out of the way, will be given a new license and a chance to make a fresh start.

M. F. EGDORF LEAVES FOR EAST LANSING, MICH.

M. F. Egdorf, who recently resigned his position as principal of the Arlington Heights high school, has assumed his duties as head of the East Lansing public schools. His family will remain in Arlington for a time.

Bob Elson interviews Arlington Heights men

Oscar Kurtz and William Forrest of Arlington Heights, were aired on the Bob Elson show over WMAQ Monday night at 10:45. This is a program by electrical transcription, done earlier as people are boarding the famous Twentieth Century Limited for New York. Bob Elson's job is to seek out interesting personages to interview about their hobbies.

Mr. Kurtz is the Advertising Manager of the Lions magazine and is known as a puzzle expert. He edits the puzzle page of that magazine and Bob asked where he obtained all the puzzles used on the page. Mr. Kurtz told him that over 2,000 readers submit puzzles to him as well as send in answers to them.

Fly fishing and tying flies were Mr. Forrest's hobby but as Bob drew him out he found that Mr. Forrest was more enthused in tying the flies than he was in the actual fishing. He went on to say that the best fishing grounds are in Northern Wisconsin, near Tomahawk and Minocqua.

In the near future another Arlington man, Melvin Kurtz, will be interviewed on the program talking on his hobby of collecting Indian arrow heads.

Plan repairs at St. Peter school at voters meeting

A very encouraging voters' meeting was held last Wednesday, July 17, with 155 voting members present. Many fine projects were launched for the upbuilding and improvement of congregational property of St. Peter church, Arlington Heights.

Martin Meyer was presented by the pastor for voting membership. The army and navy collection will be held Sept. 22. The annual Mission Festival will be observed Oct. 13. Pastor H. Blanke of Chicago will preach in both morning services and the Rev. H. L. Pfotenhauer of Woodstock in the evening.

The voters resolved:

That the roof of the east side school building shall be properly and thoroughly repaired.

That acoustical tile coilings shall be installed in the 3 classrooms in the east building.

The boys' washroom shall be rebuilt and put in a sanitary condition as soon as the material is available at an approximate cost of $750.00.

That $175 be appropriated for a fitting memorial for veterans.

That the front porch on the parsonage shall be rebuilt and painted.

That the window sills and casings of school shall be painted.

Messrs. Wm. Neumann, John Pfingsten and Martin Freeman shall serve on the Post-War Planning Committee and Messrs. Ed. Hinz, Ed. Nagel and Carl Weinrich on the committee for remodeling the auditorium for school purposes.

That the church buy 200 copies of the report of the proceedings of the last District Convention which are to be sold to all those desiring a copy.

That Martin Freeman organize a cub pack among the younger boys of the congregation.

The painting of the parsonage and teacherages was postponed until next spring.

Head-on collision endangers house

Sunday noon a truck of the Friend Bros. Co. of Barrington, driven by Ray Willis, collided with an auto driven by Harold Nelson of Chicago. The collision occurred at Chicago ave. and Bothwell sts., Palatine.

Both vehicles met in a head-on collision. The occupants of the car and truck were slightly bruised and shaken up and were taken to the Palatine Community hospital for treatment.

The truck driver lost control and crashed into a tree following the collision. Mrs. Fred Harmening, who was at the back door of her home, saw the truck headed for her doorway and thought it was coming right into the house. The tree, however, fortunately intervened.

Voters approve school bonds 138 to 19

The voters of School District No. 25 approved an additional bond issue of $100,000 for the construction of the South School addition at the election held July 20 by a vote of 138 to 19.

This bond issue, with the $185,000 approved by the electorate on March 16, makes sufficient funds available for the completion of this project. The Board of Education will meet soon with the low bidders, as determined at the public opening of bids on June 28, to arrange for awarding contracts for the work.

Liquidate bonds in 5 years

According to the plan of maturities approved on July 20, the $100,000 bond issue will be liquidated during the next five years, thus avoiding the possibility of handicapping the district so far as bonding power for future building needs is concerned. The $185,000 bond issue approved on March 16 provides for retirement over a 20-year period.

Steps will be taken soon by the Board of Education to sell these bonds on the basis of competitive bidding on the basis of the lowest interest rate which can be secured. It is expected that an interest rate below the maximum of 2½% authorized at the election can be secured.

In addition to the facilities provided by the addition, certain much needed improvements in heating, lighting and arrangement of the present structure are included. It is the belief of the Board of Education that this project has been well and carefully planned and that it will provide the facilities for an excellent educational program.

R. R. weed-burner starts three fires

Arlington Heights firemen often warn the general public to be careful with weed burning, but the C. & N. W. R. R. is supposed to know better.

Three fires were started by a railroad weed burner this week. Sunday afternoon the department was called to the vicinity of Creamery Package Mfg. Co., where 200 ties were burning. Electric wires and a lead cable were in danger.

Tuesday afternoon and near midnight that evening firemen answered quiet alarms to extinguish a prairie fire cause by the weed burner and another tie fire.

Mt. Prospect fire department had a similar experience. At 11:10 Saturday morning a large pile of creosoted ties made a big blaze at the foot of Maple street. The fire department extinguished the blaze.

Note burning service at North Northfield church Sunday

The long heralded note burning ceremony will occur at Evangelical church of North Northfield Sunday night, starting at 7:30, when the congregation observes the first birthday of the new building. Occasion will also mark the 109th birthday of the congregation.

Special speaker will appear for the evening service, plus the closing exercises of the daily vacation bible school. The public is invited to attend this ceremony.

POLICEMEN DANCE TICKETS NOW ON SALE

FRANK MEYER VERY ILL

Frank Meyer, 511 N. Evergreen, is very ill at the Belmont hospital where he has been operated upon. He has been confined to his bed seven weeks.

More swim, baseball tests lined up for play program

Pool is still favorite spot

The last competitive tournaments of the summer playground season are scheduled for next week at Arlington Heights parks. Final two contests will include the free throw and baseball throw, with competition for boys starting Monday and Tuesday for the girls.

The shuffle board tournament was a great success with a total of 65 competing in all the age groups.

The shuffle board results are as follows:

Midget girls: 1st, Suzane Frankе; 2nd, Maureen Barrett; 3rd, Ann Gregory.

Midget boys: 1st, R. Weinrich; 2nd, A. Smith; 3rd, F. Burns.

Junior girls: 1st, M. Utterback; 2nd, Janet Siegel; 3rd, Joyce Haemker.

Junior boys: 1st, D. McAuliffe; 2nd, Bucky Randag; 3rd R. Helfers.

Inter. girls: 1st, Marlyn Young; 2nd, Arlene Busse; 3rd, Carol Orth.

Inter. boys: 1st, Robert Evans; 2nd, T. McAuliffe; 3rd, T. Cooper.

On August 14 at 10:00 in the morning there will be a moving picture shown of water activities and water ballet swimming. All children are invited to come to the field house that morning. If there are any adults interested, they are also welcome.

August 14 at 8:30 p.m. there will be a swimming show and exhibition to be staged by the American Red Cross and the swimmers of Arlington Heights swimming pool.

Wednesday, August 21 in the afternoon there will be a swimming tournament for all classes:

Midgets girls and boys.
Junior girls and boys.
Intermediate girls and boys.
Senior girls and boys.
Diving for Junior and Senior boys and girls.

Next week's issue will list events and distances for each group. Those interested are urged to sign up or see Mr. Vokac at the pool. There will be 1st, 2nd and 3rd place awards.

Towards the end of every summer, young children, especially those under ten years of age, tire easily. Pool authorities feel for the good of these children under ten, two hours of swimming a day is sufficient.

Thus, the Arlington Heights pool authorities are instigating a plan whereby boys ten years and under are allowed to swim daily from one to three o'clock, while girls of the same age are permitted in the pool from three to five o'clock. This affects the afternoon session only.

The park board feels such restrictive measures are necessary for the good of the children, in order to prevent overtiring, sore throats, colds, etc. Until now many youngsters have stayed in the pool four hours and have returned home worn out.

However, if some parents are willing to take things into their own hands and risk the chance of letting their youngster swim all afternoon, let them come down with the youngster, or send a sealed note saying that their child will be responsible to his or her parents, and can stay in the water all afternoon.

Friday, July 29, the boy and girl beginners, those who learned to swim this year, will have swim contests to qualify in the Red Cross swimming meet. Finals will be held in Chicago in Aug.

High school band concert this Friday at Arlington

The Arlington Heights summer band, under the direction of Fredrick C. Schmoyer, will present its weekly concert Friday evening at eight o'clock in Recreation Park. As usual, an interesting and entertaining program has been arranged.

The concert will begin with John Phillip Sousa's famous march, "King Cotton"; an overture, "The Gypsy Festival", by Al Hayes, is the second number on the program; the band then plays an old favorite made famous by Wee Bonnie Baker, "Oh Johnny, Oh Jonny, Oh!" "The Sunshine of Your Smile" by Lillian Ray continues the program; this is followed by Rudolph Friml's familiar "Song of the Vagabonds"; then the band presents a novelty by Carl Frangkiser called, "Three Blind Mice at the Night Club Floor Show", and plays as an encore the "Serenade" from The Student Prince, by Sigmund Romberg; Dale Williams plays as a baritone solo one of the most beautiful songs ever written, "None But the Lonely Heart", by Tschaikowsky; as the final two numbers on the program the band plays "My Heart Stood Still" from A Connecticut Yankee, by Richard Rodgers, and Olivadotis "March of Youth",

It's tax time again during August

The second installment of the 1945 real estate taxes will be payable during August and the township collectors will have their offices open during a part of the month for the collection of those taxes. Notices will soon be mailed by the collectors giving their various office hours and places of collection.

Penalty date on the second installment is September 1. Penalty date on the first installment and on all personal property bills was May 1. Past due personal property bills are now payable at the office of the state's attorney in the county building.

The township collectors are asking the cooperation of all second installment payers in paying their tax to the home town collectors. After a heavy collection throught the county at the time of the first collections, collections at this time are expected to be comparatively light.

Judge Neumann hits a daily double

William Neumann, Arlington Heights judge, hit the daily double the other day. The double part was two fees and two brides. Keeping a date at the municipal building to unite a Chicago couple in marriage, he found two autos and two couples desiring his service. They asked for a double ceremony.

The judge said that he knew how to marry one couple once, but to marry two couples at one and the same time could not be much different than marrying one couple twice. The ceremony that the judge cooked up at the moment seemed to satisfy the two brides and their husbands, each of whom promised to name their first child, "Bill".

"If that is not as good as any daily double at the race track, I want to know it," Barber Neumann told his first customer after he returned to the shop.

The contracting parties were Edwin J. Pickley, Emily E. Ackerman and Harold K. Warner, and Elizabeth M. Regan.

Plan to form youth center leaders group

July 4th profit near $3,000

The profit from Arlington Heights July 4th celebration will be in the neighborhood of $3,000. The final figures will not be available for another ten days. While the figure is not as large as in some years, it is considered very good, considering that easy money concessions were ruled out this year, and no attempt was made to solicit contributions from business interests.

The gross receipts were considerable over $10,000.

The following youth center leaders, Mrs. Dorothy Schlundt of Elmhurst, Mrs. Muriel Mills of Arlington Heights, and Mrs. Elizabeth Newport of Palatine, met last Thursday for luncheon in the Walnut room at Marshall Fields. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the possibility of organizing a youth center leaders group. With an organization of this type ideas could be exchanged and programs for joint entertainment or recreation might be worked out, thus promoting inter-community relationships.

Another meeting has been planned for Sunday, July 28, at 2 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Mills, 544 South Highland, Arlington Hgts. Any nearby youth center leaders interested in such an organization are invited to attend.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 21, was:

"LIFE"

The Golden Text was:

"I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord . . . God is the Lord, which hath shewed us light" (Ps. 118: 17, 27).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible:

"Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God . . . For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night . . . Let that therefore abide in you, which ye have heard from the beginning. If that which ye have heard from the beginning shall remain in you, ye also shall continue in the Son, and in the Father. And this is the promise that he hath promised us, even eternal life" (Ps. 90: 1, 2, 4; I John 2: 24, 25).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"The understanding that Life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days by strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its almightiness and immortality . . . Life is without beginning and without end. Eternity, not time, expresses the thought of Life, and time is no part of eternity. One ceases in proportion as the other is recognized. Time is finite; eternity is forever infinite. . . . One moment of divine consciousness, or the spiritual understanding of Life and Love, is a foretaste of eternity" (pp. 487, 468, 598).

Postponed day medical care

by C. W. LUSSMAN of Sieburg Pharmacy

Too often the doctor's phone rings at night calling for his attention to some trouble which could have been treated during the day.

Doctors understand why. Physical resistance seems to be at a low ebb during hours of darkness and an ordinary difficulty seems magnified at night.

However, these are times when the doctor, too, needs consideration. His working hours are long and demanding. His hours of rest should be as unbroken as possible.

Make every effort to guard against night calls for the doctor. Let such calls be only in case of emergency.

A sensational new development makes it easy for anyone to insulate cold water pipes. DRI-PIPE fastens to pipe by its own "self-stik" edges. Stops condensation drip positively.

Do the job yourself in no time . . . without fuss, mess or tools. Clean up your basement playroom, store room or wherever you have sweating, dripping pipes.

DRI-PIPE is not a paint, putty or cork wrapping. It's a thick insulating material that holds dead air cells around the pipe. DRI-PIPE's outer backing is positively waterproof—doesn't require painting, but can be painted to match any color scheme.

Get DRI-PIPE now and stop pipe drip in your home, office or shop.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 21, was:

"LIFE"

The Golden Text was:

"I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord . . . God is the Lord, which hath shewed us light" (Ps. 118: 17, 27).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible:

"Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God . . . For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night . . . Let that therefore abide in you, which ye have heard from the beginning. If that which ye have heard from the beginning shall remain in you, ye also shall continue in the Son, and in the Father. And this is the promise that he hath promised us, even eternal life" (Ps. 90: 1, 2, 4; I John 2: 24, 25).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"The understanding that Life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days by strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its almightiness and immortality . . . Life is without beginning and without end. Eternity, not time, expresses the thought of Life, and time is no part of eternity. One ceases in proportion as the other is recognized. Time is finite; eternity is forever infinite. . . . One moment of divine consciousness, or the spiritual understanding of Life and Love, is a foretaste of eternity" (pp. 487, 468, 598).

Postponed day medical care

by C. W. LUSSMAN of Sieburg Pharmacy

Too often the doctor's phone rings at night calling for his attention to some trouble which could have been treated during the day.

Doctors understand why. Physical resistance seems to be at a low ebb during hours of darkness and an ordinary difficulty seems magnified at night.

However, these are times when the doctor, too, needs consideration. His working hours are long and demanding. His hours of rest should be as unbroken as possible.

Make every effort to guard against night calls for the doctor. Let such calls be only in case of emergency.

Fairhope Farms home bureau to meet Monday night

The Fairhope Farms Unit of Cook County Home Bureau will hold its next meeting Monday, July 29 at 8:00 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Art Christi of Higgins and Hinsdale rds.

The major project is "Cancer and Its Control". This lesson will be given by Mrs. John Mecklenburg and Mrs. Roy Christi.

The minor project, "A Sewing Construction Process", will be given by Mrs. Floyd Easterman and Mrs. Russell Hullison. If you would like to learn a simple way to insert a zipper placket or make corded button holes, be sure to attend this meeting. With deep regret we learn of the resignation of Mrs. Marie Cornelius, our County Home Adviser. She has accepted a teaching position at Maine Township high school.

Rural Youth unit has lawn party

Thanks to Bergman's hospitality the Rural Youth meeting July 19 turned out to be one of the greater events in the short history of the newly organized rural group.

While the early arrivals were waiting for the rest of the members to arrive, horse shoe pitching and lawn games were played.

The usual business was held in the doorway of the Bergman's large dairy barn with bags of wheat bran serving as very comfortable easy chairs. A short installation of the officers was conducted by Mrs. Bergman and election of three members for the executive committee was performed. Those elected were: Lucille Linneman, Corinne Pauling and Ernest Witte. The proposed constitution for the group was adopted officially and a definite date of August 11 set for the Cedar Lake picnic finished the business for the evening.

Adjourning to the lighter side of the evening the recreation committee had a scavenger hunt planned for the group. Fireflies and bones seemed to be scarce items on the Bergman premises the night of the hunt.

Luckily the refreshment committee obtained some wieners so that the scheduled wiener roast proved quite appropriate. Thanks to Mrs. Bergman's thoughtfulness we also had some of those (hard to get) marshmallows to roast.

Returning to the open doors of the barn and Bob Long's portable radio the group enjoyed dancing for the remainder of the evening.

Kupple Klub Knotes

The Reinshagen farm near Palatine will be the scene of the first annual Kupple Klub picnic Saturday, July 27. The club is an organization of the Arlington Hts. Methodist church. Mr. and Mrs. Schmoyer will assist the hosts. The program and entertainment will be arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Cowen. Food will arrive "potluck" fashion and all members will be contacted in regards to the kind of food to bring.

From advance information the picnic promises to be well attended and a good time and plenty of good food is in store for all.

Announce engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O. Cooper, 208 East Euclid st., Arlington Heights, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy Jean, to William L. Hull, also of Arlington Heights.

Mrs. E. L. Groves of Toronto returned home via Transcanada air lines after a three months visit with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Smith.

Spending the month at Palisades, Mich., are Mr. and Mrs. William Mueller and Mrs. John Grose and daughter, Judith.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Heller and family were vacationing for two weeks at Land O'Lakes, Wis., and are spending this week sightseeing in Canada.

Saturday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Reinshagen were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kock of Palatine.

Mrs. Emma Kellogg of Highland Park, Michigan, is a guest of her former schoolmate, Mrs. George Petersen.

Activities of Arlington Heights

Mr. and Mrs. William Luettschwager and son Harold are spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Trieglaff in Watertown, Wis. Mrs. Trieglaff is the Luettschwager's daughter.

Now on vacation and spending a few days at the Wisconsin Dells is Miss Lorraine Pomplun. She plans to spend next week with her girl friend, Miss Eleanor Krueger at a cottage on Fox Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Callahan and daughter, Patty and son George, spent Sunday with relatives in DeKalb.

Spending Sunday at Starved Rock were Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bedingfield and family. They were accompanied by the N. F. Lellingers of Northbrook.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hammerl were Mr. and Mrs. William Early and Miss Delores Baubien of Milwaukee.

Returning from Camp Hickory Hill near Edgerton, Wis., Sunday were the Misses Marilyn Franke, Carol Cox and Alice Siemro. The girls were gone two weeks and one of the vacation's highlights was a five day trip in a canoe that covered 35 miles. The canoeing was done down the Rock river and also on Lake Koshkonong.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sass and family will be Sunday night supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Blum.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Kolling the past week were Mrs. Kolling's sister, Mrs. Michael Hebert and three children of Windsor, Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sass and family attended the christening Sunday of their nephew, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kacer of Chicago.

The Happy Hour club met with Mrs. Eleanor Knockamus, South State road, last Wednesday. Mrs. George Peterson was cohostess.

Mrs. A. D. Hines plans to leave Sunday for Sydney, Nova Scotia, Canada, for a month's visit with her aunt, Miss Effie Stewart.

Miss Betty Tonne starts her summer vacation from the Illinois Bell next week. She will spend some of the time visiting her mother, Mrs. Louise Tonne, at Lake Zurich.

Mrs. Clarence Scharringhausen visited her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gaede, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wessel of Palatine. The Gaede's are from Watertown, South Dakota, and were here for the funeral of Mr. Gaede's sister, Mrs. Van Gorder, of Arlington Heights.

Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Adams Monday evening were Mrs. J. H. Ellebrake, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Helfers and daughter of California, and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Sebastian and daughter.

Sydney Allen and daughter, Pamela, left Tuesday morning to return to their home in San Diego, California. They had been visiting at the John Allen home on North Highland.

Entertaining her pinochle club Tuesday evening was Mrs. Franklin Busse. High honors were won by Mrs. Ethel Stoike, Mrs. Vance Folkman and Mrs. Esther Moehling.

Mrs. A. V. Crisler and daughters, Frances and Amy, of Glen Ellyn, visited Miss E. J. Crisler, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Forrest and daughters, Virginia and Carol, will leave Saturday for Washington, D. C., where they will spend two weeks visiting Mrs. Forrest's sister, Mrs. Clarence Nelson and family.

Mrs. A. Jasper celebrated her birthday Tuesday evening with a family party. Among the guests present were Mrs. O. Rodine of Chicago, her mother, and her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rodine, Shirley and Bobby.

The Misses Suzanne Franke, Barbara Ewert, Judy Gilman, Sally Cleaver, and Mary Ann Csanadi left Monday for a two weeks vacation at the girl scout camp, Camp Hickory Hill, at Edgerton, Wis.

Mrs. Harold Hubbard and son Billy of Monmouth spent a few days the past week visiting at the Willis Hubbard home.

Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Josephine Runkel and family in Burlington, Wis., were Mr. and Mrs. Guy Baxter and son, Emery.

Vacationing last week at Lake Beulah, Wis., were Mr. and Mrs. Orville Baldwin and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Werner Bokelmann are spending a few days in southern Illinois on a combined business and pleasure trip.

Plan annual hobby show in September

The third annual Antique and Hobby Show, presented by the Women's Society of the Methodist Church, will be held on the 11th, 12th and 13th of September. On those dates the main floor of the church will be transformed into a series of fascinating little shops where antiques will be exhibited and sold. A larger number of dealers than ever before have asked for space this year, assuring visitors of a choice selection of articles of unusual interest to add to their own collections.

The entire show this year will be housed in the Methodist church, and by careful planning, the committees have provided space for all the popular features of the show, such as hobbies, quilts and table settings. In addition, a particularly fine collection of greetings cards will be on display, enabling the public to secure cards of rare quality for Christmas and other occasions.

This show has become an institution in Arlington Heights and people come long distances to see the beautiful and unusual treasures collected for their enjoyment.

Mrs. J. Robert Lindsay, general chairman of the exhibit, has announced the names of her committee chairmen: Co-chairman, Mrs. Marvin Prellberg; dealers, Mrs. E. H. Heller; hobbies, Mrs. Don Stockdale; table settings, Mrs. Milo Vondracek; quilts, Mrs. Ralph M. Brock; food, Mrs. Lester McAuliffe; dining room, Mrs. Chas. Diegle; publicity and advertising, Mrs. H. J. Gregg; greetings cards, Mrs. Ray Atkinson; properties, Mrs. Robert Dibble.

Visits in Des Plaines

Two couples married at double ceremony

The Palatine Lutheran church was the scene of the double wedding of Cecilia Hampton to Paul Meister, both of Palatine, and Walter Jaster of Palatine to Edna Mann of Chicago, Saturday, July 20. The double ring ceremonies were read by Rev. Wilbur Koester.

Mrs. Hampton was attired in a pink crepe dress, set off with black accessories, and wore a gardenia corsage. Dorothy Jaster, niece of the bride, and Robert Tegtmeier served as witnesses for the couple.

Miss Mann wore a green crepe dress with white accessories and had a white carnation corsage. Their witnesses were Dorothy and Edward Jaster.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Jaster had a reception for 100 relatives and friends in Chicago, after which they left on a week end honeymoon trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Meister left immediately after the wedding for a week end honeymoon at Lake Geneva, Wis. Both couples are making their homes in Palatine.

75th birthday

Mrs. Martha Kuhlman of Bensenville was guest of honor recently at a 75th birthday party given by her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dohe. Thirty-five guests aided Mrs. Kuhlman in making the day festive. Pictured above are four generations, including Mrs. Kuhlman, daughter, Mrs. Harry Dohe, granddaughter, Lorraine Tkach, and great granddaughter, Sharon Lee Tkach.

Up and Doing 4-H club

The Up and Doing 4-H club of Elk Grove held their fourth meeting at the home of Delilah Deeke, July 16.

A talk was given by Delilah Deeke on Hair Styling, and Mrs. Wetterman told about her trip West. Demonstrations were given by Betty Linneman, how to make caramel squares; Shirley Busse, how to make lemon pudding; Carol Busse, how to make pigs in the blanket; and Evelyn Boesche, how to make a bed correctly.

Among the visitors was Mrs. K. A. Jacobson, the Elk Grove 4-H chairman.

Wednesday the Up and Doings held their local achievement at the Elk Grove Home Bureau meeting which was held at the Elk Grove school. After the meeting and games, the girls were surprised to see that their hostesses, Delilah Deeke and Carol Busse, had prepared a weiner roast for them.

The next meeting will be held July 30, at the home of Carol Busse.

Shower and picnic are two highlights of Bell telephone

The traffic employees of Arlington Heights Bell Telephone Co. honored a fellow employee, Mrs. Oscar Craig, with a pink and blue shower last Thursday evening. The shower was held in the recreation room of the local office and the guest of honor received many lovely gifts for the coming event.

Commercial plant traffic employees, their families and friends, will attend their second annual picnic Sunday, July 28, which will be held in the Elk Grove forest preserve.

4-H Flashes

The Arlington Heights 4-H Flashes held their last meeting at the home of Mrs. Erich Jung, their leader.

The meeting consisted of a talk given by Joyce Drewes on posture and a demonstration by Lois Blaschke on a Zitter.

They were entertained at the meeting with a solo sung by Revata Landmeier and Joyce Drewes. Games were played, directed by Joan Lingren, assistant chairman.

Refreshments were served by Gloria Haemker, Lois Blaschke, Bonnie Peterson, Revata Landmeier and Joan Sander at the close of the meeting.

Cribbings from TOTVILLE

by Di Dee

Mr. Stork had a double load as he soared into the Elmhurst hospital Tuesday, July 23. He made his way along the hall until he came to the door marked Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schuldt, Arlington Heights. Putting his brakes on gently, and with a mischievious gleam in his eye, entered the room, plopped, not one, but two little bundles in the waiting crib, and left, leaving the amazed parents to examine their bundles. A quick glance told them it was a boy and a girl. Robert Otto weighed in at 4 pounds 15 ounces, while his sister, Roberta Paulette, tipped the scales at 4 pounds 11 ounces. Papa has recovered and both mama and babies are doing fine. Mrs. Schuldt is the former Ruth Geisel, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Geisel of Arlington Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bestor of Northbrook are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a baby daughter, Judith Ann, born at the Evanston hospital, July 8. Judy had two sisters, Dorothy and Barbara, and a brother, Bert, to welcome her recent arrival home.

A baby girl arrived at the Highland Park hospital, July 14, for Mr. and Mrs. Earl Patterson of Northbrook. Dorothy Lee is her name and she has a six year old sister, Barbara, who is mighty happy she's a girl.

Heralding the arrival of a son, July 16, are Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Busse of Arlington Heights. Rodney Alan was delivered at the est Suburban hospital, Oak Park, and weighed 8 pounds 12 ounces upon arrival. He has a three year old sister, Sandra Lee.

All aglow over the arrival of a new daughter are Mr. and Mrs. Victor Beisler. Ardes Ruth is the new baby's name and she entered this world at 12:20 a. m., July 21, at the Elmhurst hospital. Ardes tipped the scales at 6 pounds 10 ounces and has a sister, Norma, and a brother, Stephen, who are very jubilant over her arrival.

Childerley Chapel, Wheeling, scene of wedding

The Childerley Chapel of St. Francis in the Orchard in Wheeling, was the scene Wednesday morning of the wedding of Miss Sheelagh Clooney and Francis J. O'Laughlin. The chapel is owned by the Calvert Club, a Catholic organization of the Chicago University of which Mr. O'Laughlin is a member.

Miss Clooney is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Clooney of Edmonton, Canada, and Mr. O'Laughlin is the son of Mrs. Rosella O'Laughlin of Ft. Wayne, Ind. The double ring ceremony started at 9:00 o'clock with Father Gregory O'Brien O. S. M. of Chicago officiating. Some of the music played during the wedding was especially composed for the occasion, and the entire hour mass was all in Gregorian chant.

The young couple will make their home in Chicago until Mr. O'Laughlin receives his doctorate degree that he is now working for at the Chicago University.

Lorraine Witte, Emil Freise are married

Wedding bells rank out Sunday, July 14, at 2 p.m. for Miss Lorraine Witte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Witte of Mount Prospect, and Mr. Melvin Freise, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Freise of Palatine. The double ring ceremony took place at the St. Paul Lutheran church, Mount Prospect, Reverend J. E. A. Mueller reading the solemn vows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white satin, princess style gown, fashioned with short sleeves edged in French lace. She wore matching satin gloves that were topped with lace, meeting the lace on the sleeves of her gown. The yoke of the sweetheart neckline was set off with rhinestones and the three tier, finger tip length veil was held in place by a rhinestone tiara. Around her wrist was a rhinestone bracelet, a gift of the groom. Her cascade bouquet was made up of white gladioli and larkspur.

Miss Arlene Haseman, a girl friend of the bride, was maid of honor and was gowned in a dress of white double net, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and trimmed with blue bows. She carried a cascade bouquet of mixed flowers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Vernette Freise, sister of the groom, who was attired in a yellow net dress, styled with full skirt, having yellow satin insets, and sweetheart neckline, Miss Ruth Kastning of Marengo, cousin of the groom, wearing an identical gown in blue, and Miss Myra Schuett of Skokie, attired in an identical gown in pink. Each wore a tiara of mixed flowers. They wore a single strand rhinestone bracelets, gifts of the bride.

Howard Freise, cousin of the groom, served as best man and the ushers were Ernest Witte Jr., of Mt. Prospect, Leslie Ahrens of Morton Grove, and Leonard Kastning of Marengo. They all wore dark tuxedos and had boutonnieres of white carnations.

The bride's mother wore a gray polka dot dress and had a pink carnation corsage for her daughter's wedding, while the groom's mother was attired in an aqua print and also had a pink carnation corsage.

Miss Mary Ann Eiler sang "Because" before the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" just before the vows were read, accompanied by Elmer Jackisch at the organ.

A dinner for 35 guests at St. Paul Lutheran school followed the ceremony, after which a reception for 500 guests was held at the Wheeling community hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Freise are making their home with the bride's parents in Mt. Prospect for the time being.

We Dood It 4-H club

The Palatine We Dood It 4-H club met at the home of Nancy Nelson. The meeting was called to order by the president, Carol Reinshagen. The roll was called after which the minutes of the last meeting were read.

The girls told of their adventures at camp and also discussed about the county Achievement Day that will be held at Des Plaines, August 7.

A very interesting demonstration was given by Nancy Nelson on how to prepare butterfly salad. Betty Hapke talked on what is the ideal weight. Refreshments followed, served by the hostess Nancy Nelson and Leona Knigge.

Those present were Amelie Meinen, Marlyn Miller, Nancy Nelson, Carol Reinshagen, Leona Knigge, Shirley Smith, Jeanette Prestige, Betty Hapke, Norma Hapke and the leader, Mrs. Bergman.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Chamberlain of Arlington Heights announce the engagement of their daughter, Lillian Catherine, to Robert A. Kraft, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kraft of Palatine.

Stark and Burbank MIRACLE TREES That Bear GIANT SIZE FRUITS 1 to 3 Years Sooner

New STARKING (Trade-Mark) Apple

New Patented Heavy Bearing Highest Quality FRUIT TREES

Often pay back their entire tree cost before ordinary trees start to bear

NOW you can plant marvelous new varieties of quick-bearing trees, specially selected and bred to bear years younger—trees that break traditions for size of fruit and bushels per tree—vigorous, sturdy young trees. They are the cream of 130 years of Stark-Burbank fruit and tree improvements.

Our Government asks every family with available space to plant fruit trees. There is now a serious national fruit shortage. Many authorities predict that in years to come only those who grow their own fruit will be able to supply their table plentifully with the sugar-laden, health-giving, vitamin-filled fruits to which they have been accustomed. To be sure that your family has enough of this delicious and healthful food, grow your own delicious tree-ripened fruit supply.

Let me show you how you can plant now—enjoy delicious fruits amazingly soon—increase the value of your property. See, telephone or write me. No obligation.

Bensenville home annual festival Sunday, July 28

Each year at this time all residents of the Bensenville Home are busy making preparations for the annual festival and homecoming next Sunday, July 28. The outdoor stage is up, booths are being erected, and daily rehearsals are being held to perfect the performance the children will present as their contribution to the gala day.

This year they have chosen to reproduce a circus, complete with clowns, a rhythm band, bull fight, acrobats, dancers, bear cubs, and mysterious "woofuses." Miss Elaine Smith and Miss Carol Dunham are directing the staging, costumes and sets. Miss Smith is director of recreation at the home, and Miss Dunham, a senior at Cornell College, Mt. Vernon, Iowa, is assistant director of summer recreation. All children from two-year olds to teen agers will participate.

Although the interest is on the children's part in the festival, other features will mark this as a big day for the thousands of friends, alumni, and patrons who attend. The Rev. Helmuth Crusius, a board member from Menomonee Falls, Wis., will speak at 11 a. m. when the first outdoor worship service is held.

Miss Cora Warnecke, organist at Friedens church, Bensenville, will play for this service.

At midday, a home-cooked meal will be served in the children's dining hall and in the gymnasium which will be lined with steam tables to facilitate serving the guests. Members of the Women's Auxiliary of the home will serve the dinner. Refreshments will be available, too, at the booths outside.

Mrs. Robert Kerch and Mrs. Clarence Runge are in charge of the sandwich and hot dog booth and will be assisted by members of Peace church women's group. Hamburgers will be served by members of the West Suburban Brotherhood, with Martin A. Niemann as chairman. St. Paul's church, Bloomingdale will have charge of parking the thousands of cars that day. The committee of assistants is headed by Henry Harmening and Charles Franzen of Roselle and Edwin Steinbeck and Herbert Frick of Bloomingdale.

Ice cream, candy, pop, will be available too. Novelties will be sold and articles made by residents of the home. This latter booth is sponsored by the Ladies Service Committee of which Mrs. Herman Magers, Bensenville, is a member.

Highlight of the day's program will be the worship service at 3 p. m. at which the Rev. Alvin J. Munsterman, superintendent of the home, will speak. His theme will be "An Understanding Heart" signifying the attitude of the home and its staff members toward their work with the children and aged. The Rev. William Moenkhaus, pastor of Kloeckner Memorial church, Chicago, is chairman of the festival and will preside at the afternoon service.

The Rev. Armin H. Bizer, pastor of St. Peter's Neighborhood church, Northbrook, and chairman of the board of directors of the home will read the scripture. The Rev. Herbert P. Bloesch, board member and pastor of Nazareth church, Chicago, will take part also.

Music will be furnished by the Century Male Chorus, a group of men from Evangelical and Reformed churches of Chicago and vicinity.

Following the afternoon service, the children will give their circus performance, after which the Bensenville Community Band will play a concert with Lynn Huffmann directing.

Mrs. Edna V. Jeffers, member of the staff, will have charge of the tagging committee composed of alumni and relatives of the children of the home.

WHEELING

The will of Anna Armbruster, who died in Chicago June 5 leaving a $2,500 estate, gives it equally to four brothers and sisters, including Edward Welflin and Minnie Balling, both of Wheeling.

Open Nests

An open nest should be provided for every five or six hens in the laying flock. If trap nests are used, there should be one for every three or four hens.

Eye to the future

Pros. Hts. plans 400 car park area, playground for stores

When the automobile production dam breaks and cars come tumbling off the assembly lines to flood the streets and highway, Prospect Heights' ever enlarging and popular shopping district will be set to survive the choking process of street parking. This community improvement was definitely established Monday when Carlton A. Smith, of Smith & Dawson, disclosed that arrangements were already underway to provide additional parking space for 400 cars. Anthony F. Koske, excavators, are expected to commence excavating and filling this week.

Plans call for the laying of black top roads adjacent to the north and of the shopping district on Elmhurst road, and at the extreme eastern end of the vacant property adjoining the pharmacy, on McDonald road. Both roads will lead to the parking area which includes all of the land in the rear of the shopping district.

The decision of Smith & Dawson, developers of the community now widely publicized as "America's Chummiest", resulted from the combined increased popularity of the shopping district and the increased use of automobiles resulting from release of wartime restrictions.

The return of the automobile to new high intensity use has already created traffic congestion in many city and village shopping areas. Shoppers are experiencing considerable trouble finding places to park and this situation coupled with newspaper advertising of local mercnants has caused an influx of out-of-town shoppers to Prospect Heights.

Recognizing that this situation will gain considerable momentum as traffic congestion increases and municipalities are required to eliminate parking in order to accommodate the free movement of vehicles and pedestrians, Prospect Heights will be one of the first villages to provide ample space for the community's shoppers needs.

Children's playground another shopping convience

An additional convenience attraction to the shopping district will be a fenced in area, 25 x 50 feet, containing children's play ground equipment. This little tot's park will be adjacent to parking area and the pharmacy, and should prove to be a boon to shoppers. Here they may leave the little ones to enjoy themselves while they are busily engaged in procuring necessary purchases.

Reopen recreation field

In addition to these new shopping facilities of the community, Smith & Dawson have reopened the recreation field opposite the stores for community activities. A soft ball diamond has been laid out, tan bark applied, and it will be the home diamond of Prospect Post No. 1337, Veterans Foreign Wars. During the day and on early evenings when the field is not used by the VFW players, the diamond and field will be freely available to the youth of the community.

To stimulate local use Smith and Dawson are purchasing bats, balls and other paraphernalia which may be obtained at the office of the agency. A system has been devised whereby the property may be loaned out to the individual obtaining the equipment who will be held responsible for its safe return.

Greased pig chase at Prospect Heights party

An old fashioned greased pig chase, for youngsters, is the "something new has been added" feature to Prospect Heights' 10th Anniversary Fete which is to take place on August 9, 10 and 11.

This novel innovation to the Fete's program of events was announced Monday morning by Mrs. Torsten B. Sanden, chairman of the events committee, The chase is scheduled to take place early Saturday evening. The little pig will be released and any youngster who enters the event, and successfully captures the greased pig will own the little fellow for keeps. Or the successful boy may sell the animal or take it home to provide the family choice strips of bacon, pork chops and other choice cuts.

Mrs. Sanden also announced that a large number of gas filled balloons advertising the 10th Anniversary Fete, will be released Sunday afternoon, July 28 at 2:00 o'clock, at the Prospect Heights Recreation Field, opposite the shopping center.

Each balloon released will carry a postal card addressed to the Fete committee. Finders who return cards will be eligible to participate in cash prize awards. Senders of all returned cards will secure an opportunity to participate in one of the numerous prize drawings.

Mrs. Sanden also announced that entry blanks for the Jitterbug contest are ready and in the hands of the committee, Mr. Richard Lambert and the Misses Elaine Pritchard and Joan Bartlett. Several entries are expected from Palatine, Mt. Prospect and Des Plaines with the largest group originating from Arlington Heights. Jitterbugs will compete for a large trophy which has been donated by the Mt. Prospect State Bank, by its president, Mr. William Busse.

Prize ribbons to be awarded to the 50 sectional winners in the 8 classes of the Flower Show, the 11 sections in the baking contest and the 27 sections of the canning contest, as well as the special trophy awards will be placed on display in the shopping center next week. Information details of these contests will be available at the Prospect Heights hardware store.

Quotas wide open for maritime service tng.

The Chicago Office of the U. S. Maritime Service today announced that quotas are wide open for a limited time to young men between 16 and 17 who have attended high school two or more years. Applicants will be required to pass intelligence tests prior to acceptance.

Recruits will be sent to beautiful St. Petersburg, Florida, where they will receive training that will equip them for lifetime careers at sea. Uniforms, quarters, subsistence, medical, dental care, recreational facilities and pay are offered to qualified men.

For complete information, apply to the U. S. Maritime Service, Room 515, 844 Rush Street, Chicago 11.

Electrical Hotbeds

ADVISORY DEPT. OFFERS PUBLIC FUNERAL HELPS

The return of our Gold Star heroes

by WILLIAM H. STIRLEN
of Karstens Funeral Home

This column for the past two weeks has introduced an explanation, and "ANSWERS TO YOUR QUESTIONS" of the Authoritative Repatriation Program. The advisory department maintained at the Karstens Funeral Home under the direction of Walter F. Karstens, Roy L. Fairbanks, and William H. Stirlen has obtained this Authoritative information in an effort as a public service to clear some of the perplexing problems of the Repatriation Program.

A sample copy of the first Authoritative booklet on the Repatriation Program to be published since it was signed into law by President Truman on May 15, has been received by this department. We have ordered a quantity of this attractive 16 page booklet entitled "RETURN OF OUR GOLD STAR HEROES", and in the near future will be available to those families, or ones interested, upon their request.

This week we are continuing the "ANSWERS TO YOUR QUESTIONS" and if per chance you have missed the previous columns, feel free to contact this department at any time, and they will answer all questions you may wish to ask about any phase of the subjects. There is of course no cost or obligation for this convenience.

"ANSWERS TO YOUR QUESTIONS"

Q. If the next of kin does not stipulate any choice, what will be done with the remains?

A. They will be interred in the nearest military cemetery overseas or otherwise interred according to the best interests of the government.

Q. Who is "next of kin"?

A. The War Department recognizes the next of kin in the following order:

If the deceased was not married: Father, mother, brothers over 21 years old in the order of their seniority, sisters over 21 years old in order of their seniority. relatives over 21 years old in order of their relationship to the deceased.

If the deceased was married: The widow or widower if not divorced, separated or remarried, sons of the deceased over 21 years old in the order of their seniority, relatives over 21 years old in order of their relationship to the deceased.

Q. What should be done if a next of kin has moved since receiving notification of the death of a serviceman?

A. Such next of kin should immediately notify the proper authorities of their new addresses. Next of kin of deceased army personnel should notify the Memorial Division. Office of the Quartermaster General, Washington 25, D. C., of their change of address; those of deceased navy personnel should notify the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery (EDC), Navy Department, Washington 25, D. C.; those of deceased marine corps personnel should notify Commandant, United States Marine Corps (Casualty Section), Navy Department, Washington 25, D. C.; and those of deceased coast guard personnel should notify Commandant, U. S. Coast Guard (Casualty Division), Washington 25, D. C.

Q. How long will it take to repatriate all remains?

A. Probably two years or more.

Q. Will remains be repatriated simultaneously from all parts of the world?

A. No. A definite schedule has been drawn up by the War Department. The program contemplates the repatriation of remains from the various theaters of war in systematic order, to be completed late in 1948.

Q. Will there be any expense to the next of kin for repatriation?

A. If remains are returned to this country for burial in a private cemetery or are sent to a foreign country for burial in a private cemetery, the government will pay $50 towards the cost of final interment. When interment is in an overseas military cemetery or a national cemetery in the United States, the full cost of final interment is borne by the government. All expenses of preparing remains for repatriation and transporting them to final destinations will be paid by the government.

Q. Where are overseas military cemeteries located?

A. They are located throughout the European Theater of Operations, Pacific Area, Mediterreanean Zone, Africa-Middle-East Zone, Caribbean Zone, Eastern Defense Command, Alaskan Department, China Zone, and India-Burma Zone. At present there are over 350 such cemeteries, but they eventually will be reduced in number and remains not repatriated will receive final interment in those military cemeteries overseas chosen to be permanent.

Q. Will remains be returned from all parts of the world?

A. Yes — from wherever Americans gave their lives in service, regardless of the remoteness of the region.

Q. If remains are not repatriated or if they are buried in an overseas military cemetery or a national cemetery in this country, is the $50 payment made to the next of kin?

A. No. Payment is only to help defray funeral and interment expenses.

This column next week will continue with questions and answers on the return of the Gold Star Heroes.

New officers picked for county highway commissioners unit

Robert Peterson of Lyons township, was elected president of the Township Highway Commissioners association of Cook County at the organization's annual meeting recently held.

William Hintz of Maine township was elected vice-president; William Kreis of Bremen township, was chosen treasurer, while Lyle L. Aulwurm of Calumet township, was elected secretary.

This organization comprises every township in the county outside the city of Chicago and has a 100 per cent membership among the highway commissioners, Peterson said.

New Jeep Station Wagon

Willys-Overland Motors "surprise of the year" is the new Jeep Station Wagon which is now in mass production. The vehicle is powered by an improved 63 HP jeep engine, has a 104 inch wheelbase, seats 7 adults, and has an all-steel body. Designed to fill the need for an all-around car which rides with passenger car comfort and can, with seats removed, be used as a light transport, the vehicle is meant for people who never seriously considered a station wagon before. With generous carrying space, it is a utility car for farm or business use. The aspen-grained masonite interior makes cleaning easy after utility use while the steel body eliminates varnish upkeep costs, essential with the traditional wooden station wagon.

New prexy of international Lions club

Clifford D. Pierce of Memphis, Tenn., is the new president of the International Association of Lions Clubs. He was unanimously advanced from the first vice-presidency to the presidency at the annual convention of the Association which closed July 19 in Philadelphia, Penn. Pierce succeeds retiring president Dr. Ramiro Collazo of Havana, Cuba.

The Philadelphia convention concluded one of the most successful years in the history of Lions International, according to the report made by the Secretary General, Melvin Jones. He reported the formation of 685 new Lions Clubs and the addition of 60,932 men to the roster of the Association in the twelve-month period ended June 30, 1946, which raised the total club figure to 5,400 and the membership to 279,116, which is by far the largest in the history of the International Association. He also stated that during the year Lions Clubs had been established for the first time in three additional countries or territories — Ecuador, Bermuda, and Curacao, NWI.

Golfers must eat

Hobb Evans, new manager of Tam O'Shanter Country Club, has really written an order for the All-American Golf Tournaments this year, to feed the 65,000 diners he expects to serve at the event. Besides nearly 70 gallons of coffee, 20 gallons of tea, 80 gallons of sweet milk, and, of course, 1,000 pounds of ice-cubes daily, he will serve 350 pounds of pot roast, 350 pounds of baked ham, 400 pounds of veal, 500 orders of fried chicken, 400 pounds of pork tenderloin, 800 pounds of roast beef and 800 pounds of ham on succeeding days of the tournaments.

New product stops moisture dripping from basement pipes

Yes, there is a quick, easy and positive cure for sweating pipes, which, come warm, humid weather, mess up the basement with a continuous drip, drip, drip. Just cover the pipes with a new product called Mystik Self-Stik Dri-Pipe, developed by Mystik Adhesive Products, Chicago. Dri-Pipe is a jacket of thick insulation with a moisture-proof outer backing (which is a positive vapor barrier). It has its own "self-stik" adhesive edges for attaching lengthwise to the pipe.

No need for technical knowledge, mechanical skill or experience — so simple, quick and clean that it's a pleasure to handle. Do the job yourself without fuss or muss and no more tools than a pair of scissors. Dri-Pipe permanently stops condensation drip under most conditions. Can be pieced together easily for use on cold air ducts, tanks, etc. Dri-Pipe need not be painted, but takes paint nicely if you wish.

Dri-Ppe can be purchased at Reese Hardware, Arlington Hts., and Busse-Biermann Hardware in Mt. Prospect.

Questions on G. I. bill

Question: Must service women report to Selective Service after discharge?

Answer: No, as veterans, women are not required to report to the draft board. But as veterans, all women honorably discharged have the same rights as male veterans under the Selective Service System and under the G. I. Bill of Rights. All facilities of the Selective Service System are available to women veterans and their records are handled the same way as those of male veterans. Incidentally, all women veterans should have their discharges recorded at the County Clerk's Office as soon as possible following discharge.

Question: Where may I inquire about war bonds which I purchased by deductions from my service pay?

Answer: Inquiries may be directed to the following:

Army: Army War Bond Office, Office of the Fiscal Director, 366 West Adams Street, Chicago, Ill.

Navy: Navy Department, Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, Field Branch, Attention: Bond Issuing Division, Cleveland, Ohio.

Marines: Paymaster, Headquarters, Marine Corps, Attention: Alloement Officer, Washington, D. C.

Coast Guard: Commandant U. S. Coast Guard, Washington 25, D. C.

Be sure to give your rank, serial number and organization.

Question: I understand that there are national homes for disabled veterans. Where may I obtain information on these?

Answer: A veteran who is so disabled as to be unable to earn a living, who is without adequate means of support, may apply for admission to one of the numerous National Soldiers' Home for disabled, located throughout the country, where former members of the armed forces may live and receive care. Application should be made through the Veterans' Administration.

Question: My husband and I are both veterans of World War II. Can we both receive a loan to buy a home?

Answer: Two or more may apply together for a loan, in which case the guarantee can be up to $2,000 for each veteran, provided the total guarantee does not exceed 50% of the total amount of the loan.

Question: I worked for an industrial plant in my home town for six months before entry into the army, in what the plant then described as a temporary job. Have I any re-employment rights in this plant?

Answer: If you were told at the time of employment that you were hired for a temporary job, you have no legal right of re-employment. If not, the burden of proof would fall on the plant to define the word "temporary"; most such cases have been resolved in favor of veterans.

Question: What hourly wage or monthly salary would a veteran of World War II receive on his first year as Carpenter Apprentice?

Answer: Fifty perent of journeyman's wage, plus $50.00 a month subsistence allowance if single. or $75.00 a month if married, if training under the G. I. Bill.

Question: I have been informed that records of veterans may be released by the Veterans' Administration upon request. Is this correct?

Answer: No, as a general rule, the Veterans' Administration will not release records of a veteran. Copies of records from the armed services are considered confidential.

ADVISORY DEPT. OFFERS PUBLIC FUNERAL HELPS

The return of our Gold Star heroes

by WILLIAM H. STIRLEN
of Karstens Funeral Home

This column for the past two weeks has introduced an explanation, and "ANSWERS TO YOUR QUESTIONS" of the Authoritative Repatriation Program. The advisory department maintained at the Karstens Funeral Home under the direction of Walter F. Karstens, Roy L. Fairbanks, and William H. Stirlen has obtained this Authoritative information in an effort as a public service to clear some of the perplexing problems of the Repatriation Program.

A sample copy of the first Authoritative booklet on the Repatriation Program to be published since it was signed into law by President Truman on May 15, has been received by this department. We have ordered a quantity of this attractive 16 page booklet entitled "RETURN OF OUR GOLD STAR HEROES", and in the near future will be available to those families, or ones interested, upon their request.

This week we are continuing the "ANSWERS TO YOUR QUESTIONS" and if per chance you have missed the previous columns, feel free to contact this department at any time, and they will answer all questions you may wish to ask about any phase of the subjects. There is of course no cost or obligation for this convenience.

"ANSWERS TO YOUR QUESTIONS"

Q. If the next of kin does not stipulate any choice, what will be done with the remains?

A. They will be interred in the nearest military cemetery overseas or otherwise interred according to the best interests of the government.

Q. Who is "next of kin"?

A. The War Department recognizes the next of kin in the following order:

If the deceased was not married: Father, mother, brothers over 21 years old in the order of their seniority, sisters over 21 years old in order of their seniority, relatives over 21 years old in order of their relationship to the deceased.

If the deceased was married: The widow or widower if not divorced, separated or remarried, sons of the deceased over 21 years old in the order of their seniority, relatives over 21 years old in order of their relationship to the deceased.

Q. What should be done if a next of kin has moved since receiving notification of the death of a serviceman?

A. Such next of kin should immediately notify the proper authorities of their new addresses. Next of kin of deceased army personnel should notify the Memorial Division. Office of the Quartermaster General, Washington 25, D. C., of their change of address; those of deceased navy personnel should notify the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery (EDC), Navy Department, Washington 25, D. C.; those of deceased marine corps personnel should notify Commandant, United States Marine Corps (Casualty Section), Navy Department, Washington 25, D. C.; and those of deceased coast guard personnel should notify Commandant, U. S. Coast Guard (Casualty Division), Washington 25, D. C.

Q. How long will it take to repatriate all remains?

A. Probably two years or more.

Q. Will remains be repatriated simultaneously from all parts of the world?

A. No. A definite schedule has been drawn up by the War Department. The program contemplates the repatriation of remains from the various theaters of war in systematic order, to be completed late in 1948.

Q. Will there be any expense to the next of kin for repatriation?

A. If remains are returned to this country for burial in a private cemetery or are sent to a foreign country for burial in a private cemetery, the government will pay $50 towards the cost of final interment. When interment is in an overseas military cemetery or a national cemetery in the United States, the full cost of final interment is borne by the government. All expenses of preparing remains for repatriation and transporting them to final destinations will be paid by the government.

Q. Where are overseas military cemeteries located?

A. They are located throughout the European Theater of Operations, Pacific Area, Mediterreanean Zone, Africa-Middle-East Zone, Caribbean Zone, Eastern Defense Command, Alaskan Department, China Zone, and India-Burma Zone. At present there are over 350 such cemeteries, but they eventually will be reduced in number and remains not repatriated will receive final interment in those military cemeteries overseas chosen to be permanent.

Q. Will remains be returned from all parts of the world?

A. Yes — from wherever Americans gave their lives in service, regardless of the remoteness of the region.

Q. If remains are not repatriated or if they are buried in an overseas military cemetery or a national cemetery in this country, is the $50 payment made to the next of kin?

A. No. Payment is only to help defray funeral and interment expenses.

This column next week will continue with questions and answers on the return of the Gold Star Heroes.

Answer: Two or more may apply together for a loan, in which case the guarantee can be up to $2,000 for each veteran, provided the total guarantee does not exceed 50% of the total amount of the loan.

Question: I worked for an industrial plant in my home town for six months before entry into the army, in what the plant then described as a temporary job. Have I any re-employment rights in this plant?

Answer: If you were told at the time of employment that you were hired for a temporary job, you have no legal right of re-employment. If not, the burden of proof would fall on the plant to define the word "temporary"; most such cases have been resolved in favor of veterans.

Question: What hourly wage or monthly salary would a veteran of World War II receive on his first year as Carpenter Apprentice?

Answer: Fifty perent of journeyman's wage, plus $50.00 a month subsistence allowance if single. or $75.00 a month if married, if training under the G. I. Bill.

Question: I have been informed that records of veterans may be released by the Veterans' Administration upon request. Is this correct?

Answer: No, as a general rule, the Veterans' Administration will not release records of a veteran. Copies of records from the armed services are considered confidential.

Better late than never; Maine high yearbook goes to the binders

Better late than never!

That is the apparent title of the Maine high school 1946 yearbook which has just been sent to the binder's. The students will probably get their books by August 15.

Robberies on again in Park Ridge

Robberies were on schedule again in Park Ridge last week when burglaries of two homes and one office were reported. Nothing of comparative value was taken in the three robberies, though some personal effects are missing.

State bugle contests to be conducted Aug. 4 at Park Ridge festival

The Illinois state bugle corps contests will be conducted this year in conjunction with the Park Ridge American Legion festival, with actual contests occurring the final day, August 4. At least 15 Legion bugle corps will enter the meet with afternoon and evening exhibitions planned. The usual parade and festival "regulars" will be on hand for the seven day event.

Maine high school to be used as guidance lab by Northwestern

Northwestern university will interview Maine high school students of the classes of '46 and '47 August 6 to 9 in a study of abilities, personality traits, vocational interests and achievements. Dual purpose of the tests will be to give Northwestern students practice in guidance and personnel work, and will give Maine high a complete report of its senior students.

Q: Why is it important that children's first teeth receive dental attention?—L. W. M.

A: Although parents often neglect the child's first teeth, there are several excellent reasons that they should receive the same care as the teeth in the permanent set: 1. The child must learn proper eating habits. He cannot chew his food adequately with broken-down teeth, and bad habits established in early childhood may persist throughout life. 2. The growth and development of the jaw and face are often disrupted by the premature loss of the baby teeth, the adjacent teeth tending to drift into the space remaining with resultant irregularity of the second, or permanent, teeth. The baby teeth, through their maintenance of space in the jaw, direct the permanent teeth that succeed them into the proper places. 3. Good care of the first teeth prevents tooth decay and consequent toothache and possible infection, all of which are barriers to the enjoyment of perfect health.

X-ray pictures of a child's teeth are valuable in the prevention of serious dental defects. Small cavities which cannot be seen on the external surfaces of the teeth are detected by the x-rays, which thus make it possible for the dentist to care for these cavities before they progress too far and endanger the entire tooth. When the second teeth begin to come in, x-ray pictures are an aid in determining whether they are in correct position.

This area land bank commissioner lending authority extended

Miss Lois M. Anderson, Secretary-Treasurer of the Tri-County National Farm Loan Association, located at Geneva, announced that this association is again authorized to make Land Bank Commissioner loans in Kane, DuPage and Cook Counties.

According to notification received by the local association from Walter H. Droste, President of the Federal Land Bank of St. Louis, Congress has passed H. R. 6477, extending the authority to make Land Bank Commissioner loans until July 1, 1947. President Truman signed this bill on July 12, Droste said.

"The continuation of Commissioner lending authority should prove beneficial to many farmers in this section of the state. It enables the association and the Federal Land Bank to more fully meet the needs of certain borrowers and permits the making of prudent investment loans on small acreages," Miss Anderson said.

SUES FOR $10,000

Joseph Simons has sued Clarence Freeman and Anthony Sabi in superior court for $10,000 damages for colliding with his car in Niles May 9. He says he was driving on Touhy street and the defendants' truck, being operated on Harlem ave., ran into his car, causing injury to Simons.

Forger poses as Clyde Beatty in Elgin, but police catch him

Posing as Clyde Beatty, the animal trainer, was a bad stunt for one Edward Kane of Oswego, N. Y. Kane had posed in Elgin as the famed trainer while getting ready to cash numerous forged checks.

The police discovered Beatty was with his animal show in British Columbia just 24 hours before Kane was scheduled to leave Elgin for greener fields. Kane has a record of penitentiary sentences in Ohio and New York for forgery.

Consider reopening of Maine Jr. college

Reopening of Evanston and other junior colleges has prompted an investigation at Maine high school to see if such action is possible in that township. The board is studying the problem, but present overcrowding and space limitations in the school give a poor prospect for Maine's junior college to be started again this fall.

SUES FOR OVERCHARGE

Gordon Nelson has sued Phillip Lehman in Circuit court for damages for selling him a used house trailer for far more than O. P. A. price. In a suit filed in Circuit court he states that Lehman, who buys and sells automobiles at Higgins and York roads in Elk Grove, sold him a trailer for $1,479 May 2. The price under O. P. A. should have been $485, it is alleged. Demand was made for a refund of the $994 overcharge and a penalty of three times that for overcharging. Payment of these demands has been refused, it is charged.

Fails to stop for sign, but gets action from state department

Arrest of H. C. St. John of Dundee for failing to observe a stop sign on Busse highway at Dempster street was nothing unusual for Des Plaines police last week. But when St. John got busy, found the sign of an illegal size and in an illegal location, things began to hum to the benefit of all.

St. John went back to the scene of the crime and found the sign was placed 93 feet from the place of stopping, and that it was just 24 inches in diameter, while state rules call for a 36 inch illuminated sign. The 24 incher should be used only where secondary roads cross a state highway.

He also discovered the warning sign to be four-fifteenths of a mile back, while regulations call for it to be just 400 feet. A telegram to Green and the state highway department brought action the same day, with the bigger sign properly placed.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

Mrs. Katherine Bauer, who died in Chicago May 17 left a $11,000 estate. After giving $1,000 each to four grandchildren, she left the residue equally to her three children. Heirs include Emma O'Brien and her two children, John and Marilyn, all of Arlington Heights. They are deceased's daughter and grandchildren.

DES PLAINES

The estate of William B. McNulty, who died in Indo-China February 12, leaving a $4,000 estate, has been opened in Probate court. He died intestate. His heirs are his parents, two brothers and a sister. A brother is James E. McNulty, 273 Oxford rd., Des Plaines.

Never before will Deer Grove Park have entertained so many farmers at one time as will be within its hospitable boundaries Sunday, July 22 when the great Milk Producers picnic for this part of the county will be given by the Palatine local.

A great automobile parade will start from Palatine and it is expected that not only the farmers, but every business house and friends of the farmers will take part in this demonstration showing that it is a united community back of the men who supply the milk for the city of Chicago. Ever since they won their fight last spring the farmers have been getting stronger and united they are a power to be reckoned with.

Their picnic at Deer Grove Sunday will be attended by many from neighboring communities. Special speakers will be present; the Palatine band has been engaged.

Insist Heights streets will stand traffic — (they have)

Supt. J. K. Walsh says the natives of Arlington Heights will be surprised to see the work on the paving progress when they get their two concrete spreading machines and extra gang of men here from Des Plaines. He offers a big bet that the Heights job will be finished before Nov. 10 because they have five miles of paving at Park Ridge to do this season after they get through here.

Those kickers who question whether Arlington Heights paved streets will stand heavy traffic can see for themselves how the ordinary concrete sidewalks don't break when heavy freight cars pass over them. The streets are to have five inches of solid cement concrete base and two inches of asphalt concrete.

Drainage district soon to be completed

Property owners of the Arlington Heights Drainage District will no doubt be pleased to hear that as soon as local commissioners have been appointed by the county court, the long delayed construction will begin. The petition for the above work was the first filed in Cook County under the "Levee Act" at which time an estimate was made for an open ditch with concrete culverts for each tract.

Within three years of the time of filing said petition the tile pipe manufacturers began to make 30 inch shale tile at about one-half the former price. The commissioners immediately attempted to revise their estimate but found that the law was such that no plans could be changed until after the assessment was spread and confirmed.

It was at the trial that it became evident that the owners preferred local men as commissioners, and it is with that end in view that a petition has been prepared asking the court to appoint local men to act, and the said petition of the owners so as to show the court that the desire is unanimous.

OLD TIMERS — NEW TIMERS

There seems to be quite a discussion raging in the Fence Post about the old timers and the newer residents. Now, why should this be? Were all a part of one community and as we see it, should all work for the good of that community. After all, it's where we live and it's a sad state of affairs if we can't get along with our neighbors.

Naturally the old guard has run the affairs of the town in the past. They were the only ones here and had to run it. They had some awful scraps among themselves too, by the way, about the way things should be run and what should be done, but after the smoke of battle cleared away it was still one community.

And we don't believe that you can blame the old timers for liking to be able to call their fellow townsmen by their first name. They'd do that to the new residents if they could only get acquainted with them fast enough. We can remember when we could walk down the street and call every man, woman, child and dog by their first name. But no more, the old town is changing.

We think we know the fellow who said he came here once as a new comer and became a part of the community. He did just that, he was in business too and he made a success of that business, raised a fine family and was a valuable, sound minded, public official who was always for the good of the community. What that fellow did, others can do and are doing right now.

We could sight some of our most successful business men who, not so long ago, were so called new comers. And the way they became successful was to make themselves a part of the community. The old timers, I don't believe, can be censured for being clannish, for after all, don't the new residents gang together and have their own organizations?

All of which is only natural, but there is no law in the books that prevents both groups from mingling together and getting acquainted with one another when the opportunity offers. To become good friends and neighbors, all with the same objective in mind, to make their home community the best home town in the land.

TOMATOES

The tomato vines, like the potato vines, have made a fine growth this year and now the tomato growers are asking is there going to be anything on them, the same as the potato growers were asking a few weeks ago. Well, a lot of the early tomato blooms fell off, there's no doubt about that, but the growers are hoping for a later bloom to make a crop.

Yes, we sprayed those early blooms with that new fangled Hermone spray or "seedless set" and will be blamed if we can see that it did anything. We only sprayed part of our patch and we've got just as many tomatoes on those we didn't spray as on those we did. So thus far we're not going overboard for that new dope. We're still from Missouri, we've got to be shown.

Garden yields of all sorts of vegetables keep up in great shape and this has been one of the best years for gardeners in a long time.

FALL GARDENS

And it will soon be time to be thinking about planting a fall garden to keep the old garden producing from frost to frost. In late July and early August many kinds of vegetables may be planted, which with favorable weather will make a good yield this fall. Successive plantings of beans can be made, lettuce and radishes can be planted late next month, spinach can be sown early in September. Swiss chard and turnips can be sown late in August and once in a blue moon a crop of an early variety of peas can be raised if the fall isn't too hot and dry.

A later sowing of carrots and beets will also produce an eatable crop before frost kills the garden.

STILL AT IT

Those C & N W railroad trains keep the old racket right up. Nearly every day they pass while some train is in the station. Maybe one death wasn't enough from that sort of thing. Well, if they just keep on there will be more people killed in the same manner.

We've been told that the village ordinance that prohibits that sort of thing isn't worth the paper it's printed on, that the village has no control over the railroad and that the commerce commission is the only one with jurisdiction. That statement about the value of our village code makes us wonder how many more ordinances aren't worth the paper they are printed on and why do we hire attorneys to draw up village codes when the results of their efforts is nothing.

Reenlistment deadline extended by the army

Because the final date for reenlistment at same grade according to MOS numbers was extended by army officials, all ex-GIs can reenlist in the army, winning back their rank as at discharge.

The military occupational specialty numbers, and the time they were held, is the key to the issue, according to the Evanston Army recruiting office.

Brides to be

Noble Rains and Ethel Boland, both Skokie.
Robert J. Morgan, Chicago, Florence Sowinski, Des Plaines.
Jaul J. Meister and Mrs. Cecelia Hampton, both of Palatine.
Walter J. Jaster, Palatine, Mrs. Edna Maur, Chicago.
Chris Rieke, Jr., and Vera Dodd, both of Barrington.

Your weekly treat recipe

This week's recipe has been held back for several months because of the meat situation. I have been eager to give it to you, and won't wait any longer. Try this as a main dish at your earliest opportunity. I'm sure you'll understand why I was anxious for you to have the recipe.

Pork and rice casserole

3 cups ground and cooked pork.
1 cup uncooked rice.
2 eggs.
1½ cups milk.
½ teaspoon Worchestershire sauce.
½ teaspoon dry mustard.
1½ teaspoon salt.
Pepper.

Beat eggs, add the milk and combine with the other ingredients.

Bake two hours in a 325 degree oven.

It Happened Here

The kindergarten children were playing "being Japs", not in the hateful way of the war years, but in a friendly, kindly way. One little boy looked up and explained, "We're playing being Japs, not those old, bad Japs, but the new ones." Tolerance from the children of a race that asks for, but does not always receive, tolerance! Surely a hint here for the UN or any peace organization; not new Japs, but a new relation to all peoples and nations, of whatever race or creed, a new start for all. "And a little child shall lead them."

Tolerance is a gracious word,
On our lips so often heard;
Jew or Gentile, black or white,
All are equal in His sight.
This our faith and this our creed;
Let us make it true in deed.

S'Amuser.

GREAT VACATIONS

Four Palatine readers vacationing tell and write such glowing accounts of their experiences that the editor is including their stories in this week's Fence Post:

In Hawaii

Mrs. Jennie Littlejohn and Mrs. Minnie Sawyer, of Palatine, returned home Sunday from Hawaii where they spent two weeks visiting relatives and seeing the sights of that island. They made the round trip by plane and report speedy travel and good meals enroute even though they had to do some waiting and detouring for connections.

There were wonderful flowers and an abundance of native fruits on the island but a shortage of green vegetables with a couple of heads of lettuce bringing $1.75 and a 20 lb. watermelon selling for $7.50.

There has been no rationing on the island and the stores are loaded with an abundance of articles which are scarce here, such as canned fruits and vegetables, soaps, washing powder, jello, etc.

Yes, the island has great scenery, say the travelers, but the green fields and green trees of Illinois looked mighty good again after the reddish soil of the island. Home was a good place to get back to.

Enjoying Canada

From up in the wilds of western Canada, we get a long letter from Bill DePue, Palatine mayor and Doc Williams, Palatine dentist, who are having a great time. It is so cool up there that their summer clothes are too thin. They have a good fire every morning and evening, and sleep under blankets. They report a grand trip through the west where there has been plenty of rain and where an abundance of cattle are grazing on the western prairies, say the boys.

Fishing has been good and they have had a lot of fun scooting around with their outboard motor. On their way north they stopped over a few days in Wisconsin for fishing and to get accustomed to a vacation.

Bill reports that Doc is a wonderful cook and the meals he dished up were the best ever. This week the boys are visiting Banff and Lake Louise in the Canadian Rockies and soon they'll be heading out of the cool north on their way back home where "the heat is on."

ALL IS FORGIVEN

A reporter of Paddock Publications was standing beside the meat counter in the Sanitary Market at Palatine Tuesday, when he saw and heard a woman customer beg the pardon of Butcher Walter Devermann for all the hard things she had said to him during the meat famine.

Devermann was cutting a juicy sirloin for her and there were a lot of them left. Devermann admitted to the reporter that he was often tempted to sass back some of the women who said mean things to him but he was able to keep his temper and could meet all customers with a smile on his face. "It paid", said Walter.

Seen Everything,

FAIR BUTCHER

I wonder if the lady who could afford to battle a butcher in these days and not think about next week is a customer of the other chain store in Arlington Heights on the north side where the butcher wraps a package for special people. There is no price on the package. Outsiders have no luck ever seeing meat in the case.

At least John has given everyone in this town a chance to have meat some time or other. Furthermore, tell the lady to ask any butcher if he will eat veal or lamb.

I am just a housewife who has gone through what every housewife has in the last few years.

Satisfied

JUST AROUND the CORNER

Dear Jane:

As I sat on the lawn in front of my neighbor's house yesterday, I was reminded of those words of E. B. White, in "One Man's Meat". 'Remember?

"Country talk is alive and accurate, and contains more pictures and images than city talk. It usually has an unmistakable sincerity which gives it distinction. I think there is less talking merely for the sound it makes. At any rate, I seldom tire listening to the most commonplace stuff, directly and sincerely spoken; and I still recall with dread the feeling that occasionally used to come over me at parties in town when the air was crowded with loud intellectual formations — the feeling that there wasn't a remark in the room that couldn't be brought down with a common pin".

Those sentiments fit yesterday's gathering to a T.

With another comparatively "new-comer", I was a guest at "The Neighborhood Club". We were invited by one of the members — the hostess — to meet this group of women, and to hear Mrs. Brooks, the long-time Probation Officer of the McHenry County Juvenile Court.

This meeting was a stimulating one, not only because Mrs. Brooks is a fine speaker with an interesting subject to talk about, but because the members of this small club are doing just what they set out to do when they banded together, namely: to accomplish good deeds — to be good neighbors.

They do not have great sums of money in their treasury, nor are they particularly anxious to have large amounts to manage. They are willing to leave that to the "big" clubs. They collect a tiny amount from each member at every meeting, and they raise funds on occasions by having a rummage sale. Their aims are worthy ones. After Mrs. Brooks had given her informative talk, the president of the club immediately inquired: "Isn't there some little way in which our group could help you in your work?"

Later on, another member summed up their philosophy: "We aim to do the 'little' things. Any club can authorize its secretary to write a check for this cause or that, and often that is the end of it. We want to make an actual contact and see what is being done. We want to visit the sick and aged, and try to bring to each individual some little personal comfort. We want those we help to know that we are thinking of them as real people, and not merely as incarcerated members of a state institution."

Mrs. Brooks gave the women innumerable topics to think and talk about. She told them of the delinquent children and (which is probably more truthful) delinquent parents. She spoke of the crippled children, of the feebleminded, and the children from broken homes. The county and state, of course, provide the means for their welfare, but again, there are so many 'little' ways in which a sincere and honest group of women can help.

This neighborhood club decided to assist a young woman of this community, who was at one time under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court, but recently was married to a nice young war veteran. The club will do this by giving them a household "shower" at one of the members homes. Mrs. Brooks told them that the couple had little money and not one article of their own in which to make a start at housekeeping.

The thing I especially liked about their desire to help this young couple, was their attitude — "it may give them a 'lift' to know that we care."

How true that statement is throughout everyone's life. It's the knowing that we have someone "who cares." No matter how often we fail in our aspirations, we can always pick ourselves up and try again, and it's much easier to do so, if there's someone nearby to give us a little 'lift'.

When Mrs. Brooks had finished answering the many questions (and I might mention here — that if ever there was a right person for the right job, it is Mrs. Brooks) a member quietly spoke up and asked permission to read a verse she had just that morning found in a magazine. She said she thought it was fitting after listening to Mrs. Brooks. I copied the poem, and here it is for you:

CAN YOU SAY?

Can you say in parting with the day that's slipping fast,
That you helped a single person of the many you have passed,
Is a single life rejoicing over what you did or said,
Does someone whose hopes were fading, now with courage look ahead?
Did you waste the day or lose it?
Was it well or poorly spent?
Did you leave a trail of kindness,
Or a scar of discontent?
As you close your eyes in slumber
Do you think that God would say:
"You have made the world much better for the life you've lived today."

This anonymous verse could easily be the creed of this group of women, and I think it really is — without any of them actually realizing it. They could well have called themselves, "The Good Neighbor Club", but they are too modest for that. Pretentiousness is out of their line. They are only interested in trying to do the 'little' things to help each other and those about them.

But, it seems to me, that it is the so-called 'little things' in life that turn out to be the 'big things', after all.

With love,
Mary.

Flat Bottomed Pans

A flat bottom helps keep a pan steady and means faster heating and more economical use of fuel on electric, coal or wood ranges. Pans for use on electric stoves should have dull-finished bottoms to save fuel. A dull finish absorbs heat in contrast to a shiny finish which reflects it.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

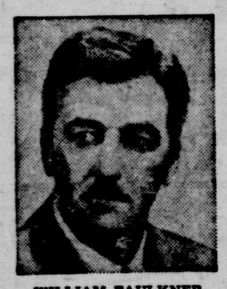
RECENTLY a distinguished European journalist who was visiting U. S. decided to make a trip to Oxford, Miss., to see an American whose writings he admired—William Faulkner. "There are too many people coming down here," Faulkner is reported to have complained. "Just last month there were two other journalists. This place is getting to be as bad as Hollywood." And when the European arrived, Faulkner was nowhere to be found.



WILLIAM FAULKNER

From time to time he has been persuaded to write for a movie film company. One day he told the studio he was going to work "at home." Later, when they tried to call him in Santa Monica, they found he had returned to Mississippi. That was what Faulkner had meant by "at home."

In spite of the fact he does none of the customary things to gain public attention, Faulkner's reputation as a writer grows steadily—nationally and internationally. Now we have "The Portable Faulkner," edited by Malcolm Cowley, a collection of some of his best stories about his Mississippi county. The selections are arranged chronologically and cover the history of the county from the days it was inhabited by the Chickasaws to the Second World War.

Where did the expression, "sowing wild oats," originate? George Stimpson in "A Book About a Thousand Things," which is the current book-dividend of the Book-of-the-Month Club, says it started among the country people of England. The wild oat is a common and noxious weed among the English farmers. At first, "sowing wild oats" meant literally sowing worthless seed, or seed that would produce a worthless crop. The transition to the figurative meaning was easy. He who wastes the precious days of his youthful prime in dissipation is therefore sowing seeds that will grow up to be unpleasant weeds.

We ordinarily think of Gandhi as a man so devoted to his cause that he has no time for laughter. It isn't true, says Krishnalal Shridharani, in "The Mahatma and the World." Gandhi likes a witticism as well as anyone, particularly in his encounters with Westerners. There is the story of an English lady who was fascinated by the variety of fruit which had been sent to the Mahatma by his admirers in England. She exclaimed that she was prepared to be a saint if she could enjoy such delicious fare. Gandhi helpfully suggested, "You need not go so far to change your diet."

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

Are you a good hoper? If you are, you may expect to have most of the things you hope for come true. But if you are not, then get yourself ready to be disillusioned, for there is an art in hoping properly, and hopes unreasonably based are sure to bring only disappointment.

"Always hope for the best", is an axiom which may lead many a person along the road to bitterness and discontentment. For hoping for blessings that run countercurrent to the common course of life seldom or never materialize.

We hope that some one will give us help through a "drag" with some one else whom we do not know. That our girl will marry a handsome and wealthy scion of an aristocratic family, when she has little more than average beauty or personality. We dream that our boy will become president of the United States, when his work in school is only average, and his interest in politics positively nil.

Better to hope that our boy gets a good job in work that he can enjoy. Much, much better to hope that our daughter will find a man whom she can trust and love, who will bring home the bacon for herself and her children, a man who will appreciate her fine qualities and tolerate her faults.

For life has a certain direction of flow that will never be changed by our desires alone. We should hope, of course. But our hopes should always be reasonably based on things that we can commonly expect to come our way as a result of our own ability, intelligence and effort.

We can all hope to be fine, clean Christian persons in thought and action. We can hope for bigger jobs at higher pay, because in a nation of free enterprise, more often than otherwise, the man or woman who gets ahead does so because he or she has shown the qualities of determination and courage and ability that enables them to realize that hope.

We must not hope for a rich uncle to die and leave us a fortune. We must not hope for things to "break" for us, without preparing ourselves to take advantage of that "break".

So let us hope for the things we can really expect to get from life. It will save us all much disappointment if, when we express a hope, we ask ourselves, "Is this hope really justified?"

Women in Aviation

Women are not new to aviation or aviation to women. Napoleon had a woman minister of air, Madame Marie Blanchard, when there was much experimentation going on with balloons. A woman who flew a balloon seven months before the Wright brothers' airplane flight in 1903, lives in New York today. She's Mrs. Henry Breckinridge, the former Aida de Acosta, who went aloft near Paris.

Well, a lot of the early tomato blooms fell off, there's no doubt about that, but the growers are hoping for a later bloom to make a crop.

Yes, we sprayed those early blooms with that new fangled Hermone spray or "seedless set" and will be blamed if we can see that it did anything. We only sprayed part of our patch and we've got just as many tomatoes on those we didn't spray as on those we did. So thus far we're not going overboard for that new dope. We're still from Missouri, we've got to be shown.

Garden yields of all sorts of vegetables keep up in great shape and this has been one of the best years for gardeners in a long time.

FALL GARDENS

And it will soon be time to be thinking about planting a fall garden to keep the old garden producing from frost to frost. In late July and early August many kinds of vegetables may be planted, which with favorable weather will make a good yield this fall. Successive plantings of beans can be made, lettuce and radishes can be planted late next month, spinach can be sown early in September. Swiss chard and turnips can be sown late in August and once in a blue moon a crop of an early variety of peas can be raised if the fall isn't too hot and dry.

A later sowing of carrots and beets will also produce an eatable crop before frost kills the garden.

STILL AT IT

Those C & N W railroad trains keep the old racket right up. Nearly every day they pass while some train is in the station. Maybe one death wasn't enough from that sort of thing. Well, if they just keep on there will be more people killed in the same manner.

We've been told that the village ordinance that prohibits that sort of thing isn't worth the paper it's printed on, that the village has no control over the railroad and that the commerce commission is the only one with jurisdiction. That statement about the value of our village code makes us wonder how many more ordinances aren't worth the paper they are printed on and why do we hire attorneys to draw up village codes when the results of their efforts is nothing.

Reenlistment deadline extended by the army

Because the final date for reenlistment at same grade according to MOS numbers was extended by army officials, all ex-GIs can reenlist in the army, winning back their rank as at discharge.

The military occupational specialty numbers, and the time they were held, is the key to the issue, according to the Evanston Army recruiting office.

Your weekly treat recipe

This week's recipe has been held back for several months because of the meat situation. I have been eager to give it to you, and won't wait any longer. Try this as a main dish at your earliest opportunity. I'm sure you'll understand why I was anxious for you to have the recipe.

Pork and rice casserole

3 cups ground and cooked pork.
1 cup uncooked rice.
2 eggs.
1½ cups milk.
½ teaspoon Worchestershire sauce.
½ teaspoon dry mustard.
1½ teaspoon salt.
Pepper.

Beat eggs, add the milk and combine with the other ingredients.

Bake two hours in a 325 degree oven.

It Happened Here

The kindergarten children were playing "being Japs", not in the hateful way of the war years, but in a friendly, kindly way. One little boy looked up and explained, "We're playing being Japs, not those old, bad Japs, but the new ones." Tolerance from the children of a race that asks for, but does not always receive, tolerance! Surely a hint here for the UN or any peace organization; not new Japs, but a new relation to all peoples and nations, of whatever race or creed, a new start for all. "And a little child shall lead them."

Tolerance is a gracious word,
On our lips so often heard;
Jew or Gentile, black or white,
All are equal in His sight.
This our faith and this our creed;
Let us make it true in deed.

S'Amuser.

GREAT VACATIONS

Four Palatine readers vacationing tell and write such glowing accounts of their experiences that the editor is including their stories in this week's Fence Post:

In Hawaii

Mrs. Jennie Littlejohn and Mrs. Minnie Sawyer, of Palatine, returned home Sunday from Hawaii where they spent two weeks visiting relatives and seeing the sights of that island. They made the round trip by plane and report speedy travel and good meals enroute even though they had to do some waiting and detouring for connections.

There were wonderful flowers and an abundance of native fruits on the island but a shortage of green vegetables with a couple of heads of lettuce bringing $1.75 and a 20 lb. watermelon selling for $7.50.

There has been no rationing on the island and the stores are loaded with an abundance of articles which are scarce here, such as canned fruits and vegetables, soaps, washing powder, jello, etc.

Yes, the island has great scenery, say the travelers, but the green fields and green trees of Illinois looked mighty good again after the reddish soil of the island home was a good place to get back to.

Enjoying Canada

From up in the wilds of western Canada, we get a long letter from Bill DePue, Palatine mayor and Doc Williams, Palatine dentist, who are having a great time. It is so cool up there that their summer clothes are too thin. They have a good fire every morning and evening, and sleep under blankets. They report a grand trip through the west where there has been plenty of rain and where an abundance of cattle are grazing on the western prairies, say the boys.

Fishing has been good and they have had a lot of fun scooting around with their outboard motor. On their way north they stopped over a few days in Wisconsin for fishing and to get accustomed to a vacation.

Bill reports that Doc is a wonderful cook and the meals he dished up were the best ever. This week the boys are visiting Banff and Lake Louise in the Canadian Rockies and soon they'll be heading out of the cool north on their way back home where "the heat is on."

ALL IS FORGIVEN

A reporter of Paddock Publications was standing beside the meat counter in the Sanitary Market at Palatine Tuesday, when he saw and heard a woman customer beg the pardon of Butcher Walter Devermann for all the hard things she had said to him during the meat famine.

Devermann was cutting a juicy sirloin for her and there were a lot of them left. Devermann admitted to the reporter that he was often tempted to sass back some of the women who said mean things to him but he was able to keep his temper and could meet all customers with a smile on his face. "It paid", said Walter.

Seen Everything,
Palatine.

FAIR BUTCHER

I wonder if the lady who could afford to battle a butcher in these days and not think about next week is a customer of the other chain store in Arlington Heights on the north side where the butcher wraps a package for special people. There is no price on the package. Outsiders have no luck ever seeing meat in the case.

At least John has given everyone in this town a chance to have meat some time or other. Furthermore, tell the lady to ask any butcher if he will eat veal or lamb.

I am just a housewife who has gone through what every housewife has in the last few years.

Satisfied
Arlington Heights.

JUST AROUND the CORNER

Dear Jane:

As I sat on the lawn in front of my neighbor's house yesterday, I was reminded of those words of E. B. White, in "One Man's Meat". Remember?

"Country talk is alive and accurate, and contains more pictures and images than city talk. It usually has an unmistakable sincerity which gives it distinction. I think there is less talking merely for the sound it makes. At any rate, I seldom tire listening to the most commonplace stuff, directly and sincerely spoken, and I still recall with dread the feeling that occasionally used to come over me at parties in town when the air was crowded with loud intellectual formations — the feeling that there wasn't a remark in the room that couldn't be brought down with a common pin".

Those sentiments fit yesterday's gathering to a T.

With another comparatively "new-comer", I was a guest at "The Neighborhood Club". We were invited by one of the members — the hostess — to meet this group of women, and to hear Mrs. Brooks, the long-time Probation Officer of the McHenry County Juvenile Court.

This meeting was a stimulating one, not only because Mrs. Brooks is a fine speaker with an interesting subject to talk about, but because the members of this small club are doing just what they set out to do when they banded together, namely: to accomplish good deeds — to be good neighbors.

They do not have great sums of money in their treasury, nor are they particularly anxious to have large amounts to manage. They are willing to leave that to the "big" clubs. They collect a tiny amount from each member at every meeting, and they raise funds on occasions by having a rummage sale. Their aims are worthy ones. After Mrs. Brooks had given her informative talk, the president of the club immediately inquired: "Isn't there some little way in which our group could help you in your work?"

Later on, another member summed up their philosophy: "We aim to do the 'little' things. Any club can authorize its secretary to write a check for this cause or that, and often that is the end of it. We want to make an actual contact and see what is being done. We want to visit the sick and aged, and try to bring to each individual some little personal comfort. We want those we help to know that we are thinking of them as real people, and not merely as incarcerated members of a state institution."

Mrs. Brooks gave the women innumerable topics to think and talk about. She told them of the delinquent children and (which is probably more truthful) delinquent parents. She spoke of the crippled children, of the feeble-minded, and the children from broken homes. The county and state, of course, provide the means for their welfare, but again, there are so many 'little' ways in which a sincere and honest group of women can help.

This neighborhood club decided to assist a young woman of this community, who was at one time under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court, but recently was married to a nice young war veteran. The club will do this by giving them a household "shower" at one of the members homes. Mrs. Brooks told them that the couple had little money and not one article of their own in which to make a start at housekeeping.

The thing I especially liked about their desire to help this young couple, was their attitude — "it may give them a 'lift' to know that we care."

How true that statement is throughout everyone's life. It's the knowing that we have someone "who cares." No matter how often we fail in our aspirations, we can always pick ourselves up and try again, and it's much easier to do so, if there's someone nearby to give us a little 'lift'.

When Mrs. Brooks had finished answering the many questions (and I might mention here — that if ever there was a right person for the right job, it is Mrs. Brooks) a member quietly spoke up and asked permission to read a verse she had just that morning found in a magazine. She said she thought it was fitting after listening to Mrs. Brooks. I copied the poem, and here it is for you:

CAN YOU SAY?

Can you say in parting with the day that's slipping fast,
That you helped a single person of the many you have passed,
Is a single life rejoicing over what you did or said,
Does someone whose hopes were fading, now with courage look ahead?
Did you waste the day or lose it?
Was it well or poorly spent?
Did you leave a trail of kindness,
Or a scar of discontent?
As you close your eyes in slumber
Do you think that God would say:
"You have made the world much better for the life you've lived today."

This anonymous verse could easily be the creed of this group of women, and I think it really is — without any of them actually realizing it. They could well have called themselves, "The Good Neighbor Club", but they are too modest for that. Pretentiousness is out of their line. They are only interested in trying to do the 'little' things to help each other and those about them.

But, it seems to me, that it is the so-called 'little things' in life that turn out to be the 'big things', after all.

With love,
Mary.

Flat Bottomed Pans

A flat bottom helps keep a pan steady and means faster heating and more economical use of fuel on electric, coal or wood ranges. Pans for use on electric stoves should have dull-finished bottoms to save fuel. A dull finish absorbs heat in contrast to a shiny finish which reflects it.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

RECENTLY a distinguished European journalist who was visiting U. S. decided to make a trip to Oxford, Miss., to see an American whose writings he admired—William Faulkner. "There are too many people coming down here," Faulkner is reported to have complained. "Just last month there were two other journalists. This place is getting to be as bad as Hollywood." And when the European arrived, Faulkner was nowhere to be found.

WILLIAM FAULKNER

From time to time he has been persuaded to write for a movie film company. One day he told the studio he was going to work "at home." Later, when they tried to call him in Santa Monica, they found he had returned to Mississippi. That was what Faulkner had meant by "at home."

In spite of the fact he does none of the customary things to gain public attention, Faulkner's reputation as a writer grows steadily—nationally and internationally. Now we have "The Portable Faulkner," edited by Malcolm Cowley, a collection of some of his best stories about his Mississippi county. The selections are arranged chronologically and cover the history of the county from the days it was inhabited by the Chickasaws to the Second World War.

Where did the expression, "sowing wild oats," originate? George Stimpson in "A Book About a Thousand Things," which is the current book-dividend of the Book-of-the-Month Club, says it started among the country people of England. The wild oat is a common and noxious weed among the English farmers. At first, "sowing wild oats" meant literally sowing worthless seed, or seed that would produce a worthless crop. The transition to the figurative meaning was easy. He who wastes the precious days of his youthful prime in dissipation is therefore sowing seeds that will grow up to be unpleasant weeds.

We ordinarily think of Gandhi as a man so devoted to his cause that he has no time for laughter. It isn't true, says Krishnalal Shridharani, in "The Mahatma and the World." Gandhi likes a witticism as well as anyone, particularly in his encounters with Westerners. There is the story of an English lady who was fascinated by the variety of fruit which had been sent to the Mahatma by his admirers in England. She exclaimed that she was prepared to be a saint if she could enjoy such delicious fare. Gandhi helpfully suggested, "You need not go so far to change your diet."

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

Are you a good hoper? If you are, you may expect to have most of the things you hope for come true. But if you are not, then get yourself ready to be disillusioned, for there is an art in hoping properly, and hopes unreasonably based are sure to bring only disappointment.

"Always hope for the best", is an axiom which may lead many a person along the road to bitterness and discontentment. For hoping for blessings that run countercurrent to the common course of life seldom or never materialize.

We hope that some one will give us help through a "drag" with some one else whom we do not know. That our girl will marry a handsome and wealthy scion of an aristocratic family, when she has little more than average beauty or personality. We dream that our boy will become president of the United States, when his work in school is only average, and his interest in politics positively nil.

Better to hope that our boy gets a good job in work that he can enjoy. Much, much better to hope that our daughter will find a man whom she can trust and love, who will bring home the bacon for herself and her children, a man who will appreciate her fine qualities and tolerate her faults.

For life has a certain direction of flow that will never be changed by our desires alone. We should hope, of course. But our hopes should always be reasonably based on things that we can commonly expect to come our way as a result of our own ability, intelligence and effort.

We can all hope to be fine, clean Christian persons in thought and action. We can hope for bigger jobs at higher pay, because in a nation of free enterprise, more often than otherwise, the man or woman who gets ahead does so because he or she has shown the qualities of determination and courage and ability that enables them to realize that hope.

We must not hope for a rich uncle to die and leave us a fortune. We must not hope for things to "break" for us, without preparing ourselves to take advantage of that "break".

So let us hope for the things we can really expect to get from life. It will save us all much disappointment if, when we express a hope, we ask ourselves, "Is this hope really justified?"

Vegetable growers conduct experimental tour Aug. 10

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon, Saturday, August 10, vegetable growers will meet at the Agricultural Experiment Station at Des Plaines.

A number of tests on insect control, varieties — new and old — spray tests and fertilizer tests can be seen at this time under the general leadership of Mr. Charles Arnold, manager of the Experiment Station.

One of the tests of outstanding importance is the one that is being tried by farmers in Cook County, and that is the addition of a nitrate carrying fertilizer to an oats crop grown for humus. These tests have given some rather outstanding results at the harvest of crops from the Experiment Station and we suggest that farmers see these plots in particular and know the results that are being obtained.

This past year tests were made on two farms in the north part of Cook County, relates Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes. One was on the Walter Sass farm, where a heavy crop of oats was plowed down last fall. On one of these plots ammonium nitrate was applied and on another ammonium sulphate and on another nitrate of soda. This application was made before the crop was plowed down. This year these fertilized plots showed very plainly in a growth of onion sets.

A similar test was run on the Max Gaitsch farm on 58 north of Des Plaines. On this farm a crop of soybeans was raised, threshed and the stubble left on the ground, part was manured and on part applications of ammonium nitrate and cyanamide was made. These two nitrogen carrying fertilizers are showing up to very good advantage in a sugar beet crop now growing on this farm.

"We are modifying these recommendations," states Farm Adviser, C. A. Hughes, "instead of adding a nitrogen fertilizer after the oats crop has been grown, the nitrogen carrying fertilizer will be added before the oats crop is sown. We expect from this to get a heavy, lush growth of oats which plowed down this fall should decay very rapidly and not only give us an abundance of organic matter for the soil, but at the same time supply the nitrogen fertilizer which our vegetable soils, which are in crops every year, need so badly.

"One or two cooperators are going to plant corn rather thickly with a corn planter and straddle the rows, instead of using the oats."

IAA launches safety drive

Launching of an all-out campaign for greater safety in rural life was announced today by the newly re-activated Department of Safety of the Illinois Agricultural Association to signalize National Farm Safety Week, July 21-27. Announcement was made by Walter W. Whitlock, Director, IAA Department of Safety.

"Unfortunately, the death and accident total in agriculture continues to be the highest of any major industry. Farmers still are gored to death by bulls; they are still being run over or thrown by tractors; they still get loose clothing caught in moving machinery," Whitlock said. "Farm children are being killed or maimed every day by field and machinery accidents. Farm women share in accidents by falls, burns, and other causes right at home. In 1944, as many farmers were killed in motor vehicle accidents as were killed at work."

The Department of Safety of the IAA will campaign for rural safety through a program including organization of clubs for safe driving and safe farming practices, news releases, distribution of safety material through various groups in agriculture, and cooperation with communities in organization of county farm safety councils.

Savings bond sales are increasing

Americans bought $139,057,000 more of U. S. Savings Bonds during the first half of July than in the first half of June, National Savings Bonds Director Vernon L. Clark reported today to Arnold J. Rauen, Illinois State Director. Sales surged up 45.7 per cent above the mid-June figure to reach $445.514.000 the best half-month's volume since January, he said.

While sales were increasing, redemptions were holding steady at the new 1946 low achieved in June, according to Mr. Clark's report.

Modernized Farms, Youth Groups Help Keep Rural Interest Alive

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

The problem of keeping the younger generation "on the farm" is often the subject of considerable concern among farm families—many times coming up for earnest discussion too late for parents to help their sons and daughters recapture the eagerness they once showed for agricultural pursuits.

Three of the primary reasons, agricultural specialists say, why young men and women want to leave farms to live in cities are: a desire for city conveniences, so often lacking in their own homes; long hours of tedious work with comparatively small cash returns, and a gradual decline of interest in farming activities during their formative years.

The first two of these obstacles to continued enjoyment of farm life are being countered, to a large extent, by the opportunities provided by electric power to modernize the old home place, make housework easier and put farming on a more automatic, efficient and profitable basis. Surveys indicate that today's farm girls — and their mothers too — are keenly interested in electric washing machines, ranges, water heaters, refrigerators and other electrical appliances, which their city cousins have taken for granted for years. They want electric lights, modern bathrooms and farm freezers too. Few want to grow old doing the family washing by hand, cleaning rugs with an old-fashioned carpet sweeper or heating water and cooking on a coal or wood burning kitchen range.

Farm boys also yearn for city conveniences and, in addition, want to use electricity to perform chores which dad was brought up to do the hard way. They don't relish pumping water by hand when electricity can do it cheaper and easier. They'd like milking machines, milk coolers, milk house water heaters, grain elevating and barn hay curing equipment, feed grinders and electrically equipped farm shops. They want these devices, not only to make farming easier, but more profitable. With them, they feel, they can do present farm work more economically and faster, using time saved to expand current farming operations and thus increase the family income.

IT'S FUN TO MILK—on an electrified farm.

One of the best ways for boys and girls to keep their farming interest alive, thereby meeting the third obstacle, is through participation in rural youth organizations, such as 4-H and Future Farmers of America. These and similar organizations, are continually encouraging the development of group and individual farm projects which act as a constant stimulant to agricultural thought and action. Many members of groups of this nature have built up their own herds through club projects, and all of them have acquired a new appreciation and understanding of modern farming methods which, often, decided them to remain and prosper on the farm.

Bill Erickson day slated for Wednesday

The annual William N. "Bill" Erickson Day will be held at Techny Fields Golf Club, Waukegan Road and Willow, Wednesday, July 31st.

These Golf Days were discontinued during the war and this year's Golf Day will be outstanding.

This affair is held every year in honor of County Commissioner William N. Erickson for his outstanding record as a member of the Board of Cook County Commissioners.

Commissioner William N. Erickson is the Republican candidate for President of the Board of Cook County Commissioners and consequently this year greater efforts are being put forth to make this a day to be remembered.

The men in charge are:

Alan E. Ashcraft, Jr., Republican Committeeman of Evanston, is the General Chairman; Judge Harry H. Porter, Evanston, is the President; Judge James Corcoran is Secretary; Judge William V. Brothers, Chairman Reception Committee; treasurer and Ticket Manager is Fred A. Hertwig, 422 Davis Street, Evanston, Ill.

In previous "Bill" Erickson Days, thousands of people attended.

There will be golf, entertainment and dinner and many door prizes.

Drink More Milk

Civilians are drinking between 20 and 25 per cent more milk today than they did in prewar days.

Alfalfa must get enough boron for proper growth

Here's a tip for alfalfa growers: E. E. DeTurk, agronomist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, warns that alfalfa must get enough boron for proper growth. Alfalfa contains only one three-hundreth of one percent of boron, but it needs that one three-hundreth of one percent.

DeTurk says that boron deficiency symptoms appear at the top of the plant. The boron taken up first and used by the older leaves and stems is fixed and can't be moved up to the growing tip to be used again. The upper leaves bunch so that they have a rosette appearance as you look down on them. Then the main bud dies, a few leaves at the top of the plant turn yellow or pink and branches start out from the upper nodes. Since the main stem has stopped growing, these side branches soon are as high as the main stem — or even higher — and you have a flat-topped plant. Other things may cause yellow leaves, but they will be anywhere on the plant — not just at the top.

The remedy is borax. The rate is about 35 pounds to the acre, and it can be spread with a clover or grass seeder or mixed with other fertilizers. Since agricultural borax, in the small quantities needed, is not expensive, DeTurk recommends it as insurance on soils likely to be deficient — either when seeding or the year after — rather than waiting for symptoms to appear.

There's no simple test for boron deficiency, but the older more thoroughly weathered soils are generally more deficient than others. These include the light-colored gray and yellow soils in southern Illinois and sandy and shelly alkali soils. Many deficient fields have been found throughout the state without apparent regard to soil type.

DDT may replace cows tail for shooing flys

Are you — or your livestock — bothered by flies? H. B. Petty, entomologist with the University of Illinois College of Agriculture and the State Natural History Survey, says that with DDT the dairyman or livestock producer can now control flies to such an extent that they will no longer be of any economic importance.

But, Petty warns, sanitation and the destruction of breeding places are just as necessary as ever. He says it's doubtful whether DDT without sanitation could control flies satisfactorily.

If you'd like to have information about just how to use DDT in your fly program, you can have it just by sending a card to the College of Agriculture, Urbana, Ilinois and ask for circular NH 219, "The Use of DDT for Fly Control on the Farm."

Weeds seeding

Clip pasture weeds — before they clip you. That's the advice of Lloyd V. Sherwood, University of Illinois College of Agriculture agronomist. And, he says, that means before the weeds blossom. If they're in blossom, the weeds can produce seeds even though they're cut. It's better to clip them, even if they're in blossom, than not to clip them at all, but you'll get the best results by cutting them before they blossom.

Vegetable growers conduct experimental tour Aug. 10

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon, Saturday, August 10, vegetable growers will meet at the Agricultural Experiment Station at Des Plaines.

A number of tests on insect control, varieties — new and old — spray tests and fertilizer tests can be seen at this time under the general leadership of Mr. Charles Arnold, manager of the Experiment Station.

One of the tests of outstanding importance is the one that is being tried by farmers in Cook County, and that is the addition of a nitrate carrying fertilizer to an oats crop grown for humus. These tests have given some rather outstanding results at the harvest of crops from the Experiment Station and we suggest that farmers see these plots in particular and know the results that are being obtained.

This past year tests were made on two farms in the north part of Cook County, relates Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes. One was on the Walter Sass farm, where a heavy crop of oats was plowed down last fall. On one of these plots ammonium nitrate was applied and on another ammonium sulphate and on another nitrate of soda. This application was made before the crop was plowed down. This year these fertilized plots showed very plainly in a growth of onion sets.

A similar test was run on the Max Gaitsch farm on 58 north of Des Plaines. On this farm a crop of soybeans was raised, threshed and the stubble left on the ground, part was manured and on part applications of ammonium nitrate and cyanamide was made. These two nitrogen carrying fertilizers are showing up to very good advantage in a sugar beet crop now growing on this farm.

"We are modifying these recommendations," states Farm Adviser, C. A. Hughes, "instead of adding a nitrogen fertilizer after the oats crop has been grown, the nitrogen carrying fertilizer will be added before the oats crop is sown. We expect from this to get a heavy, lush growth of oats which plowed down this fall should decay very rapidly and not only give us an abundance of organic matter for the soil, but at the same time supply the nitrogen fertilizer which our vegetable soils, which are in crops every year, need so badly.

"One or two cooperators are going to plant corn rather thickly with a corn planter and straddle the rows, instead of using the oats."

Modernized Farms, Youth Groups Help Keep Rural Interest Alive

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

The problem of keeping the younger generation "on the farm" is often the subject of considerable concern among farm families—many times coming up for earnest discussion too late for parents to help their sons and daughters recapture the eagerness they once showed for agricultural pursuits.

Three of the primary reasons, agricultural specialists say, why young men and women want to leave farms to live in cities are: a desire for city conveniences, so often lacking in their own homes; long hours of tedious work with comparatively small cash returns, and a gradual decline of interest in farming activities during their formative years.

The first two of these obstacles to continued enjoyment of farm life are being countered, to a large extent, by the opportunities provided by electric power to modernize the old home place, make housework easier and put farming on a more automatic, efficient and profitable basis. Surveys indicate that today's farm girls — and their mothers too — are keenly interested in electric washing machines, ranges, water heaters, refrigerators and other electrical appliances, which their city cousins have taken for granted for years. They want electric lights, modern bathrooms and farm freezers too. Few want to grow old doing the family washing by hand, cleaning rugs with an old-fashioned carpet sweeper or heating water and cooking on a coal or wood burning kitchen range.

Farm boys also yearn for city conveniences and, in addition, want to use electricity to perform chores which dad was brought up to do the hard way. They don't relish pumping water by hand when electricity can do it cheaper and easier. They'd like milking machines, milk coolers, milk house water heaters, grain elevating and barn hay curing equipment, feed grinders and electrically equipped farm shops. They want these devices, not only to make farming easier, but more profitable. With them, they feel, they can do present farm work more economically and faster, using time saved to expand current farming operations and thus increase the family income.

IT'S FUN TO MILK—on an electrified farm.

One of the best ways for boys and girls to keep their farming interest alive, thereby meeting the third obstacle, is through participation in rural youth organizations, such as 4-H and Future Farmers of America. These and similar organizations, are continually encouraging the development of group and individual farm projects which act as a constant stimulant to agricultural thought and action. Many members of groups of this nature have built up their own herds through club projects, and all of them have acquired a new appreciation and understanding of modern farming methods which, often, decided them to remain and prosper on the farm.

Alfalfa must get enough boron for proper growth

Here's a tip for alfalfa growers: E. E. DeTurk, agronomist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, warns that alfalfa must get enough boron for proper growth. Alfalfa contains only one three-hundreth of one percent of boron, but it needs that one three-hundreth of one percent.

DeTurk says that boron deficiency symptoms appear at the top of the plant. The boron taken up first and used by the older leaves and stems is fixed and can't be moved up to the growing tip to be used again. The upper leaves bunch so that they have a rosette appearance as you look down on them. Then the main bud dies, a few leaves at the top of the plant turn yellow or pink and branches start out from the upper nodes. Since the main stem has stopped growing, these side branches soon are as high as the main stem — or even higher — and you have a flat-topped plant. Other things may cause yellow leaves, but they will be anywhere on the plant — not just at the top.

The remedy is borax. The rate is about 35 pounds to the acre, and it can be spread with a clover or grass seeder or mixed with other fertilizers. Since agricultural borax, in the small quantities needed, is not expensive, DeTurk recommends it as insurance on soils likely to be deficient — either when seeding or the year after — rather than waiting for symptoms to appear.

There's no simple test for boron deficiency, but the older more thoroughly weathered soils are generally more deficient than others. These include the light-colored gray and yellow soils in southern Illinois and sandy and shelly alkali soils. Many deficient fields have been found throughout the state without apparent regard to soil type.

DDT may replace cows tail for shooing flys

Are you — or your livestock — bothered by flies? H. B. Petty, entomologist with the University of Illinois College of Agriculture and the State Natural History Survey, says that with DDT the dairyman or livestock producer can now control flies to such an extent that they will no longer be of any economic importance.

But, Petty warns, sanitation and the destruction of breeding places are just as necessary as ever. He says it's doubtful whether DDT without sanitation could control flies satisfactorily.

If you'd like to have information about just how to use DDT in your fly program, you can have it just by sending a card to the College of Agriculture, Urbana, Ilinois and ask for circular NH 219, "The Use of DDT for Fly Control on the Farm."

Weeds seeding

Clip pasture weeds — before they clip you. That's the advice of Lloyd V. Sherwood, University of Illinois College of Agriculture agronomist. And, he says, that means before the weeds blossom. If they're in blossom, the weeds can produce seeds even though they're cut. It's better to clip them, even if they're in blossom, than not to clip them at all, but you'll get the best results by cutting them before they blossom.

IAA launches safety drive

Launching of an all-out campaign for greater safety in rural life was announced today by the newly re-activated Department of Safety of the Illinois Agricultural Association to signalize National Farm Safety Week, July 21-27. Announcement was made by Walter W. Whitlock, Director, IAA Department of Safety.

"Unfortunately, the death and accident total in agriculture continues to be the highest of any major industry. Farmers still are gored to death by bulls; they are still being run over or thrown by tractors; they still get loose clothing caught in moving machinery," Whitlock said. "Farm children are being killed or maimed every day by field and machinery accidents. Farm women share in accidents by falls, burns, and other causes right at home. In 1944, as many farmers were killed in motor vehicle accidents as were killed at work."

The Department of Safety of the IAA will campaign for rural safety through a program including organization of clubs for safe driving and safe farming practices, news releases, distribution of safety material through various groups in agriculture, and cooperation with communities in organization of county farm safety councils.

Savings bond sales are increasing

Americans bought $139,057,000 more of U. S. Savings Bonds during the first half of July than in the first half of June, National Savings Bonds Director Vernon L. Clark reported today to Arnold J. Rauen, Illinois State Director. Sales surged up 45.7 per cent above the mid-June figure to reach $445.514.000 the best half-month's volume since January, he said.

While sales were increasing, redemptions were holding steady at the new 1946 low achieved in June, according to Mr. Clark's report.

Bill Erickson day slated for Wednesday

The annual William N. "Bill" Erickson Day will be held at Techny Fields Golf Club, Waukegan Road and Willow, Wednesday, July 31st.

These Golf Days were discontinued during the war and this year's Golf Day will be outstanding.

This affair is held every year in honor of County Commissioner William N. Erickson for his outstanding record as a member of the Board of Cook County Commissioners.

Commissioner William N. Erickson is the Republican candidate for President of the Board of Cook County Commissioners and consequently this year greater efforts are being put forth to make this a day to be remembered.

The men in charge are:

Alan E. Ashcraft, Jr., Republican Committeeman of Evanston, is the General Chairman; Judge Harry H. Porter, Evanston, is the President; Judge James Corcoran is Secretary; Judge William V. Brothers, Chairman Reception Committee; treasurer and Ticket Manager is Fred A. Hertwig, 422 Davis Street, Evanston, Ill.

In previous "Bill" Erickson Days, thousands of people attended.

There will be golf, entertainment and dinner and many door prizes.

Wisconsin state fair gets ready for opening

Wisconsin State Fair will shine again in new and greater glory August 17 to 25.

Over 6,000 gallons of paint reflecting all the colors of the rainbow have been used to remove the war gloom from all the buildings. Every building on the grounds will have been painted inside and out by the opening of the Fair.

Although the Fair is celebrating its 96th birthday this year, more than one-third of the buildings have been erected in the past 15 years. Material for all of these has been purchased from profits derived from the operation of the Fair and Pair Park. During the past 15 years the taxpayers of the state have not been asked to appropriate one dollar for building, but nearly a million dollars' worth of new buildings have sprung up at the Fair Park.

Wisconsin State Fair is known as one of the cleanest in America — both physically and morally.

Paved streets and sidewalks, stone buildings, many modern toilets, sprinkling systems, rigid food inspection, and a large sanitary staff have contributed to the Fair's reputation for physical cleanliness.

Elimination of carnivals, games of chance, and questionable shows has made the Wisconsin Fair first in the nation for moral cleanliness. Wisconsin State Fair has proved false an old opinion among fair men that "a clean show does not pay".

In addition to making a million dollars' worth of building improvements during the past 15 years. the Fair has accumulated a $200,000 cash balance, which is being used for future improvements of the Fair grounds as the center of the state Centennial, August 5 to September 6, 1948.

No other state fair in America has financed itself for 15 years, built so many new buildings, and accumulated as large a cash balance without cost to the taxpayers of the state.

Flying farmers to have field day at Purdue Monday

Clarence W. Leininger, Rte. 1, Palatine, Raymond P. Reinert, 980 W. Euclid, Arlington Heights, and Kenneth M. Kuehn, Rte. 2, Box 569A, Des Plaines, members of the Flying Farmers of Prairie Farmer Land have been invited by Norman McCoy, of Blue Mound, Ill., president of the organization, to attend its first annual field day, at Purdue University, West LaFayette, Ind., Monday, July 29. Although the day was planned especially for flying farmers, the general public is invited to attend.

A crowd of 6,000 to 10,000 farmers, many of whom will fly their own personal planes have placed reservations, signifying they plan to attend the event.

The group organized last March for the promotion of better flying conditions in local communities is now more than 1,000 strong.

In the forenoon of the Field Day, July 29, both members and non-members of the Flying Farmers of Prairie Farmer Land, will watch the arrival of more than 400 farmer-flown planes. Sixteen manufacturers will display their latest models and factory representatives and distributors will be present to answer all questions. The program for the morning also includes a conducted tour of agricultural points of interest at Purdue.

Thorough test of corn fertilization shown

"A test to give farmers information on the value of adding fertilizer to corn at planting time has been set up and the crop is growing on plots on the Herman Rohlwing farm at the intersection of 53 and 58," states Farm Adviser, C. A. Hughes.

"A number of tests that will give us answers to many questions may be viewed by farmers Friday, August 16, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. We hope by this time that the threshing will be out of the way and farmers will have an opportunity to see this growing corn which will be harvested this fall and the results reported to them.

"These tests are on land that is productively, a little better than average, has had an application of rock phosphate and limestone and in alfalfa for four years. This spring an application of manure was put over this land, plowed and put to corn, and as we ordinarily know, everything has been done that would constitute good farming practices.

"However, to go further with this, some of this corn has been fertilized with 100 pounds of 2-12-6 and part has not been so treated. To find if a side dressing of ammonium nitrate may profitably be added before the last cultivation an application of 40 pounds was put on about July 4 on some of the plots.

"Three plantings have been made, one early, one shortly after the 15th of May and one the latter part of May. The harvest this fall will give us a rather complete answer to all these questions.

"Mr. C. L. Lindsley will be at this field meeting and he will discuss for a few minutes any advantages or disadvantages that plow-sole system of fertilizer, of which farmers are asking, would give any advantage over the system that is being used on the Rohlwing plots. Also Mr. Petty of the Entomology Department will review the corn borer situation.

"The site of these plots are what Mr. J. C. Hackelman of the University of Illinois, Crop Extension Service, has said is one of the most interesting alfalfa plots in the whole middle west. Here a number of varieties of alfalfa are growing in their fifth year. Ranger alfalfa is way ahead of all these other types, such as Kansas, Grimm, Utah, Beehive, Ladak and Cosack.

"Farmers are asked to take just a little time in the afternoon of August 16 and see these plots and hear these discussions."

Wisconsin state fair gets ready for opening

Wisconsin State Fair will shine again in new and greater glory August 17 to 25.

Over 6,000 gallons of paint reflecting all the colors of the rainbow have been used to remove the war gloom from all the buildings. Every building on the grounds will have been painted inside and out by the opening of the Fair.

Although the Fair is celebrating its 96th birthday this year, more than one-third of the buildings have been erected in the past 15 years. Material for all of these has been purchased from profits derived from the operation of the Fair and Pair Park. During the past 15 years the taxpayers of the state have not been asked to appropriate one dollar for building, but nearly a million dollars' worth of new buildings have sprung up at the Fair Park.

Wisconsin State Fair is known as one of the cleanest in America — both physically and morally.

Paved streets and sidewalks, stone buildings, many modern toilets, sprinkling systems, rigid food inspection, and a large sanitary staff have contributed to the Fair's reputation for physical cleanliness.

Elimination of carnivals, games of chance, and questionable shows has made the Wisconsin Fair first in the nation for moral cleanliness. Wisconsin State Fair has proved false an old opinion among fair men that "a clean show does not pay".

In addition to making a million dollars' worth of building improvements during the past 15 years, the Fair has accumulated a $200,000 cash balance, which is being used for future improvements of the Fair grounds as the center of the state Centennial, August 5 to September 6, 1948.

No other state fair in America has financed itself for 15 years, built so many new buildings, and accumulated as large a cash balance without cost to the taxpayers of the state.

Flying farmers to have field day at Purdue Monday

Clarence W. Leininger, Rte. 1, Palatine, Raymond P. Reinert, 980 W. Euclid, Arlington Heights, and Kenneth M. Kuehn, Rte. 2, Box 569A, Des Plaines, members of the Flying Farmers of Prairie Farmer Land have been invited by Norman McCoy, of Blue Mound, Ill., president of the organization, to attend its first annual field day, at Purdue University, West LaFayette, Ind., Monday, July 29. Although the day was planned especially for flying farmers, the general public is invited to attend.

A crowd of 6,000 to 10,000 farmers, many of whom will fly their own personal planes have placed reservations, signifying they plan to attend the event.

The group organized last March for the promotion of better flying conditions in local communities is now more than 1,000 strong.

In the forenoon of the Field Day, July 29, both members and non-members of the Flying Farmers of Prairie Farmer Land, will watch the arrival of more than 400 farmer-flown planes. Sixteen manufacturers will display their latest models and factory representatives and distributors will be present to answer all questions. The program for the morning also includes a conducted tour of agricultural points of interest at Purdue.

Thorough test of corn fertilization shown

"A test to give farmers information on the value of adding fertilizer to corn at planting time has been set up and the crop is growing on plots on the Herman Rohlwing farm at the intersection of 53 and 58," states Farm Adviser, C. A. Hughes.

"A number of tests that will give us answers to many questions may be viewed by farmers Friday, August 16, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. We hope by this time that the threshing will be out of the way and farmers will have an opportunity to see this growing corn which will be harvested this fall and the results reported to them.

"These tests are on land that is productively, a little better than average, has had an application of rock phosphate and limestone and in alfalfa for four years. This spring an application of manure was put over this land, plowed and put to corn, and as we ordinarily know, everything has been done that would constitute good farming practices.

"However, to go further with this, some of this corn has been fertilized with 100 pounds of 2-12-6 and part has not been so treated. To find if a side dressing of ammonium nitrate may profitably be added before the last cultivation an application of 40 pounds was put on about July 4 on some of the plots.

"Three plantings have been made, one early, one shortly after the 15th of May and one the latter part of May. The harvest this fall will give us a rather complete answer to all these questions.

"Mr. C. L. Lindsley will be at this field meeting and he will discuss for a few minutes any advantages or disadvantages that plow-sole system of fertilizer, of which farmers are asking, would give any advantage over the system that is being used on the Rohlwing plots. Also Mr. Petty of the Entomology Department will review the corn borer situation.

"The site of these plots are what Mr. J. C. Hackelman of the University of Illinois, Crop Extension Service, has said is one of the most interesting alfalfa plots in the whole middle west. Here a number of varieties of alfalfa are growing in their fifth year. Ranger alfalfa is way ahead of all these other types, such as Kansas, Grimm, Utah, Beehive, Ladak and Cosack.

"Farmers are asked to take just a little time in the afternoon of August 16 and see these plots and hear these discussions."

Redwings fall before Glen Ellyn in 11-2 rout

Glen Ellyn, with Bokelmann pitching five hit ball, easily romped over the Arlington Redwings 11-2 last Sunday afternoon. One of the largest crowds to ever watch a game here came out anticipating a great pitcher's battle between Schaefer and Bokelmann.

Although Schaefer struck out 14 visitors, poor defensive work by the entire Redwing team, beginning in the first inning, when the visitors scored twice, and continuing through the whole game with the opposition getting 5 runs in the ninth inning on two hits and three Redwing errors, paved the way for the local club's third defeat.

Bokelmann never was in trouble at any time, but did slip once when he threw a home run ball to Pete Groh in the eighth inning. He also had a strike out ball working, sending 8 local boys back to the bench.

Next Sunday the Redwings play the Uptown Merchants for the second time this year. In the previous meeting Arlington won a 12 inning 4-3 thriller from the Chicago lads. Unless the home team can snap out of the hitting slump which has been very noticeable for the past several weeks and also eliminate the ragged defensive play of last Sunday their chances against the strong Chicago club will be rather slim.

Rose Lo captures 1st softball crown

RoseLo captured the first round championship in the Arlington Heights softball league with a perfect record of nine wins, no losses. The league has now opened its second half, with winners in the two divisions to meet the end of summer for the grand championship.

The RoseLo squad played hard and fast ball through all their games, never letting up, whether the opposition was tough or easy. They played as a unit, and not as individuals, and such team play pays off.

Will Becker did most of the twirling for the winners, notching seven games to his credit. Al Pederson accounted for the other two victories.

Hitting honors were divided fairly equally on the team, with at least one man coming through all the time. TheRoseLo team is setting its sights on the second half championship, knowing it will be a bit tougher than the first.

Last week Wednesday night the Mayfair Foods squad beat the Walther League, 9-0. Mayfair appeared strong in defeating the leaguers, Emmett Doyle pitching for the winners. The Walther League team notched but three hits.

Nick's Fender Benders beat the Bensenville VFW Thursday night, 7-3. This was revenge for the winners, for the DuPage county lads had won in a previous meeting.

Home runs paid off Friday night when Klehms defeated Mar. Johnsons, 2-1. Kahling hit a round-tripper in the fourth inning, and Dieball socked a four-bagger in the seventh. The Johnson scored their loner in the seventh.

Sunday night Arlington Heights Legion defeated DuPage squad, 9-7. In spite of the score, this game was close all the way.

Monday night Mayfair Foods beat DuPage, 6-0, for the winner's second shutout in a row.

Twilight golf lead goes to Sieburg

Sieburg Drug took over first place for the first time this year after being in a contending position all season in the Arlington Heights twilight golf league. They won seven of their match points from the Dunteman Dairy team. Their match this Friday night with Park Lane Laundry should result in a real battle.

The best scores turned in were in the match between Len Arnold and Chuck Kleinofen with Len's gross 35 just nosing out Chuck's 36 gross. A pair of fine 30 net scores were registered by both Charley Poss and George Frieder of the National Bank team.

Can name 'Masked Marvel' for prizes at Tam golf tournament

To focus public attention on golfers and their records, a "Masked Marvel" will compete in the professional division of the 1946 All-American Golf Tournaments at Tam O'Shanter Country Club, George S. May announced today.

Based on their knowledge of golf and ability to identify the "Masked Marvel", spectators in the gallery at the tournaments will earn valuable prizes, which will be announced at a later date.

Only this is revealed at present of golfdom's "Marked Marvel": he's tall; he's dark; he's handsome, and he's "a whale of a golfer." But who is he? Even entry officials of the tournaments being held July 25-28 are wondering. In case the "Masked Marvel" wins first place in the $50,875 tournaments sponsored by the George S. May Company, Chicago, Business Engineers, he will be entitled to the winner's $10,500 "if he wears a number," George S. May decreed.

Babe Didrikson signs for golf meet this week

Babe Dikrikson Zaharias today added her name to the roster of top-flight female par-busters who will compete in the 1946 All-American Golf Tournaments, being held at Tam O'Shanter Country Club, Chicago, July 25-28.

Mrs. Zaharias, one of sportsdom's most colorful and versatile athletes, who last week topped Polly Riley of Fort Worth, 6 and 5, to take the 16th annual Trans-Mississippi Tournament at Denver, was runner-up in the Women's Western Amateur last year.

In the $50,875 All-American Tournaments sponsored by the George S. May Company, Chicago Business Engineering firm, other outstanding woman golfers entered for this year include Patty Berg, Betty Hicks, Dorothy Germain, Beulah Hurst, Betty Jameson, Estelle Lawson Page, Dorothy Traung, Glenna Collett Vare and Virginia Van Wie.

Poole Fords lose to Oak Park in 12 innings

The Poole Fords, Arlington Heights entry in the American Legion baseball tournament, lost two games to Oak Park Monday and Tuesday nights, bowing out of meet play.

Monday night the locals were badly mauled, 12-2, at Oak Park. Tuesday night was a different story, however, with the locals losing, 3-1, in the twelfth frame.

Arlington scored their tally in the fourth, and Oak Park retaliated in the seventh. Errorless ball was playe duntil the twelvth when the visitors put across two runs.

Oak Park meets East St. Louis for the state championship Thursday at Wrigley Field.

Match Factories

Match factories today house not only the chemical and manufacturing plants to make matches, but also make their own boxes for the matches, the cartons for shipping, and operate the printing plants which produce multi-colored advertisements on the covers. The oldest book matches with advertising were not only hand-made but hand-printed. The labor and time consumed in these operations made the cost high, one of the contributing factors in the early unpopularity of this type of match.

Aurora Downs gains license for harness races

Two important announcements to trotting horse owners and the followers of this rapidly growing sport were made today by officials of Aurora Downs, where Harness Racing will be revived with forty-one nights of competition beginning September 17th.

The closing date for the fourteen stakes, which total $45,500.00 and feature the Fox Valley Trotting Club's program, has been extended three weeks to Monday, August 5th, Racing Secretary Leon Dygert revealed. This was done on request of numerous horsemen. Blanks are now in the mail and may be obtained by applying to the Secretary's office, P. O. Box 591, Aurora.

Aurora Downs was granted the state's second license for night harness mutuel races from September 17 to November 2nd by the Illinois Harness Racing Commission. It will revive racing at the old Aurora track adjoining Exposition Park where the Central States Fair and both harness and thoroughbred racing were held during the 1920's and 1930's. The present mile oval is being restored to its original half-mile proportions but otherwise the Park is in excellent shape despite the fact it was used as a navy store-house during the war.

Softball meet

The amateur softball association men's tournament to determine the two teams qualified to represent the north and west town districts in the metropolitan championship playoff which will be held against the two qualifiers from the south town district tournament and the defending champions, the Match Corp. of America, will be played in either Evanston or Park Ridge with probable dates from August 1 to 8. The winner of this tournament will be qualified to enter the regional tournament which will be held in Chicago this year. For further information write W. J. Pepper Storage

Whole black pepper can be stored as long as 100 years without deterioration, say experts, citing an example of such storage in a London warehouse.

Rose Lo captures 1st softball crown

RoseLo captured the first round championship in the Arlington Heights softball league with a perfect record of nine wins, no losses. The league has now opened its second half, with winners in the two divisions to meet the end of summer for the grand championship.

The RoseLo squad played hard and fast ball through all their games, never letting up, whether the opposition was tough or easy. They played as a unit, and not as individuals, and such team play pays off.

Will Becker did most of the twirling for the winners, notching seven games to his credit. Al Pederson accounted for the other two victories.

Hitting honors were divided fairly equally on the team, with at least one man coming through all the time. TheRoseLo team is setting its sights on the second half championship, knowing it will be a bit tougher than the first.

Home run king for the RoseLo team is Garms with four. Wolf heads the list of strikeouts with five, while F. Kehe has seven walks to his credit.

Second half

In the first game of the second round schedule the Arlington Legion nine defeated Wheeling, six to nothing. Dick Busse performed creditably on the mound for the winners, tosing a no-run, no-hit game.

First Row: Bill Rudolph, W. Heinemann, M. Laseke, Ben Rosenquist (sponsor), F. Kehe, W. Kehe and J. Rudolph.

Second row: A. Wolf, R. Taege, W. Becker, H. N. Becker, M. Garms, P. Tossman, R. Tossman (bat boy).

Missing from picture: I. Kehe, R. Hertel, Al Pederson, E. Bublitz.

Last week Wednesday night the Mayfair Foods squad beat the Walther League, 9-0. Mayfair appeared strong in defeating the leaguers, Emmett Doyle pitching for the winners. The Walther League team notched but three hits.

Nick's Fender Benders beat the Bensenville VFW Thursday night, 7-3. This was revenge for the winners, for the DuPage county lads had won in a previous meeting.

Home runs paid off Friday night when Klehms defeated Mar Johnsons, 2-1. Kahling hit a round-tripper in the fourth inning, and Dieball socked a four-bagger in the seventh. The Johnson scored their loner in the seventh.

Sunday night Arlington Heights Legion defeated DuPage squad, 9-7. In spite of the score, this game was close all the way.

Monday night Mayfair Foods beat DuPage, 6-0, for the winner's second shutout in a row.

Coming games

July 25, Mayfair Foods vs. Wheeling.

July 26, RoseLo vs. Klehm.

July 28, Bensenville VFW vs. Wheeling.

July 29, Arlington Heights Legion vs. Mayfair Food.

Can name 'Masked Marvel' for prizes at Tam golf tournament

To focus public attention on golfers and their records, a "Masked Marvel" will compete in the professional division of the 1946 All-American Golf Tournaments at Tam O'Shanter Country Club, George S. May announced today.

Based on their knowledge of golf and ability to identify the "Masked Marvel", spectators in the gallery at the tournaments will earn valuable prizes, which will be announced at a later date.

Only this is revealed at present of golfdom's "Marked Marvel": he's tall; he's dark; he's handsome, and he's "a whale of a golfer." But who is he? Even entry officials of the tournaments being held July 25-28 are wondering. In case the "Masked Marvel" wins first place in the $50,875 tournaments sponsored by the George S. May Company, Chicago, Business Engineers, he will be entitled to the winner's $10,500 "if he wears a number," George S. May decreed.

Babe Didrikson signs for golf meet this week

Babe Dikrikson Zaharias today added her name to the roster of top-flight female par-busters who will compete in the 1946 All-American Golf Tournaments, being held at Tam O'Shanter Country Club, Chicago, July 25-28.

Mrs. Zaharias, one of sportsdom's most colorful and versatile athletes, who last week topped Polly Riley of Fort Worth, 6 and 5, to take the 16th annual Trans-Mississippi Tournament at Denver, was runner-up in the Women's Western Amateur last year.

In the $50,875 All-American Tournaments sponsored by the George S. May Company, Chicago Business Engineering firm, other outstanding woman golfers entered for this year include Patty Berg, Betty Hicks, Dorothy Germain, Beulah Hurst, Betty Jameson, Estelle Lawson Page, Dorothy Traung, Glenna Collett Vare and Virginia Van Wie.

Poole Fords lose to Oak Park in 12 innings

The Poole Fords, Arlington Heights entry in the American Legion baseball tournament, lost two games to Oak Park Monday and Tuesday nights, bowing out of meet play.

Monday night the locals were badly mauled, 12-2, at Oak Park. Tuesday night was a different story, however, with the locals losing, 3-1, in the twelfth frame.

Arlington scored their tally in the fourth, and Oak Park retaliated in the seventh. Errorless ball was playe duntil the twelvth when the visitors put across two runs.

Oak Park meets East St. Louis for the state championship Thursday at Wrigley Field.

Match Factories

Match factories today house not only the chemical and manufacturing plants to make matches, but also make their own boxes for the matches, the cartons for shipping, and operate the printing plants which produce multi-colored advertisements on the covers. The oldest book matches with advertising were not only hand-made but hand-printed. The labor and time consumed in these operations made the cost high, one of the contributing factors in the early unpopularity of this type of match.

Aurora Downs gains license for harness races

Two important announcements to trotting horse owners and the followers of this rapidly growing sport were made today by officials of Aurora Downs, where Harness Racing will be revived with forty-one nights of competition beginning September 17th.

The closing date for the fourteen stakes, which total $45,500.00 and feature the Fox Valley Trotting Club's program, has been extended three weeks to Monday, August 5th, Racing Secretary Leon Dygert revealed. This was done on request of numerous horsemen. Blanks are now in the mail and may be obtained by applying to the Secretary's office, P. O. Box 591, Aurora.

Aurora Downs was granted the state's second license for night harness mutuel races from September 17 to November 2nd by the Illinois Harness Racing Commission. It will revive racing at the old Aurora track adjoining Exposition Park where the Central States Fair and both harness and thoroughbred racing were held during the 1920's and 1930's. The present mile oval is being restored to its original half-mile proportions but otherwise the Park is in excellent shape despite the fact it was used as a navy store-house during the war.

Softball meet

The amateur softball association men's tournament to determine the two teams qualified to represent the north and west town districts in the metropolitan championship playoff which will be held against the two qualifiers from the south town district tournament and the defending champions, the Match Corp. of America, will be played in either Evanston or Park Ridge with probable dates from August 1 to 8. The winner of this tournament will be qualified to enter the regional tournament which will be held in Chicago this year. For further information write W. J. Ringer, 1126 Westgate, Oak Park, or phone Euclid 154.

Pacific

From the Pacific comes word of John Brumm of Wheeling.

"Just a few lines to let you know I'm still afloat. Right now we are on our way back to Manus Island from Wellington, New Zealand.

"We arrived at Manus Island April 16, with 150 Sea bees and their equipment. Their job was to secure the island of Manus. After unloading them, we laid around in the harbor for two weeks, everybody waiting for a transport to take us back to the States. One day the Captain called the crew together and wanted to know how many would sign over for a trip to Wellington, New Zealand. After two days of thought one talked the other into going. We left April 4 and arrived the night of April 18.

"As soon as we got there, we unloaded our road scrapers and bulldozers. Then came the five day leave we were promised, if we made the trip. Those five days I won't forget for a long while. The only misfortune we had was that it was mid-winter down there. The temperature was 45 to 50 degrees. It doesn't sound very cold, but after being in the Admiralty Islands for a while, we just about froze. It was co- wherever we went, because none of the business places, movies, hotels or homes had any system of heating. The homes had one fireplace in one room, the rest were cold.

"The girls and the older people were the most friendly you could meet anywhere. As for the young fellows of New Zealand, we didn't seem to get along. Maybe it was because the girls of New Zealand preferred to go out with us Americans rather than their own men.

"Of the 12 days we were there, I had some of the best liberties since I've been in the navy. Wellington is the capitol of New Zealand with a population of over 250,000.

"Our ship was the last ship manned by U. S. Navy men to leave New Zealand. Our ship being the only American ship in New Zealand, and supposedly the last, we had many visitors aboard. We left the morning of July 1. Every member of the crew enjoyed their stay in New Zealand very much, and hated to leave, but all of us U. S. N. R.'s have to be back at Manus by July 14 to catch a transport for the states for discharge.

"I haven't received any copies of the Herald since I've left Pearl Harbor last March. Sure hope they are all waiting for me at Manus. I really miss them.

"Time for lights out and a little 'sack duty', so I'll sign off for now."

Pacific

From the Pacific comes word of Wesley Schmoldt of Arlington Heights.

"I have the best news as to date. I met a home town fellow today. I was sitting at my desk at work when somebody pokes my arm. I didn't pay any attention at first, then the same thing happened, so I looked up and there was Frank Leisgurger.

"I didn't know what to say I was so surprised. After the sober expression left my face I jumped and yelled, 'Frank! how are you'. The questions flew both ways and we were both excited. We talked more in fifteen minutes than I do all day.

"He had to leave right away because he had to get back to work. He is over at the 5th RD so I will look him up in the near future.

"I have received three copies of the home town paper and I read every line of print."

His address is Pfc. W. Schmoldt, 46041850, APO 323 Hq Pasc % P M, San Francisco, Calif.

'Hay Fever' fifth production at Lake Zurich playhouse

On July 26, 27, and 28, Lake Zurich Playhouse audiences will be presented with the play that has sent New York and London audiences into spasms of laughter, "Hay Fever" by Noel Coward. Mr. Coward has written many other favorites including "Blithe Spirit", "Bittersweet", and "Private Lives".

Heading the cast of this well known play is Miss Geraldine Page, who has been seen this summer in "Claudia", "Arsenic and Old Lace", and the title role in "Kind Lady". Her author-husband is played by Will Haas of Goodman Theatre. Also seen in this play are Lois June Nettleton, Ruthann O'Grady, Ann Frost, Bobbie Collentine, Ronny Linder, Audrey Dineen, and introducing Stephen St. John in the role of the son.

This play is presented under the capable direction of Miss Bella D. Itkin of Goodman Theatre and DePaul University. Setting and costumes by Leonor Travis.

The following week, August 2, 3, and 4, James Thurber's and Elliott Nugent's play "The Male Animal" will be presented. Tickets for these productions are now on sale at the box office.

Pacific

From the Pacific comes word of John Brumm of Wheeling.

"Just a few lines to let you know I'm still afloat. Right now we are on our way back to Manus Island from Wellington, New Zealand.

"We arrived at Manus Island April 16, with 150 Sea bees and their equipment. Their job was to secure the island of Manus. After unloading them, we laid around in the harbor for two weeks, everybody waiting for a transport to take us back to the States. One day the Captain called the crew together and wanted to know how many would sign over for a trip to Wellington, New Zealand. After two days of thought one talked the other into going. We left April 4 and arrived the night of April 18.

"As soon as we got there, we unloaded our road scrapers and bulldozers. Then came the five day leave we were promised, if we made the trip. Those five days I won't forget for a long while. The only misfortune we had was that it was mid-winter down there. The temperature was 45 to 50 degrees. It doesn't sound very cold, but after being in the Admiralty Islands for a while, we just about froze. It was cold wherever we went, because none of the business places, movies, hotels or homes had any system of heating. The homes had one fireplace in one room, the rest were cold.

"The girls and the older people were the most friendly you could meet anywhere. As for the young fellows of New Zealand, we didn't seem to get along. Maybe it was because the girls of New Zealand preferred to go out with us Americans rather than their own men.

"Of the 12 days we were there, I had some of the best liberties since I've been in the navy. Wellington is the capitol of New Zealand with a population of over 250,000.

"Our ship was the last ship manned by U. S. Navy men to leave New Zealand. Our ship being the only American ship in New Zealand, and supposedly the last, we had many visitors aboard. We left the morning of July 1. Every member of the crew enjoyed their stay in New Zealand very much, and hated to leave, but all of us U. S. N. R.'s have to be back at Manus by July 14 to catch a transport for the states for discharge.

"I haven't received any copies of the Herald since I've left Pearl Harbor last March. Sure hope they are all waiting for me at Manus. I really miss them.

"Time for lights out and a little 'sack duty', so I'll sign off for now."

Pacific

From the Pacific comes word of Wesley Schmoldt of Arlington Heights.

"I have the best news as to date. I met a home town fellow today. I was sitting at my desk at work when somebody pokes my arm. I didn't pay any attention at first, then the same thing happened, so I looked up and there was Frank Leisgurger.

"I didn't know what to say I was so surprised. After the sober expression left my face I jumped and yelled, 'Frank! how are you'. The questions flew both ways and we were both excited. We talked more in fifteen minutes than I do all day.

"He had to leave right away because he had to get back to work. He is over at the 5th RD so I will look him up in the near future.

"I have received three copies of the home town paper and I read every line of print."

His address is Pfc. W. Schmoldt, 46041850, APO 323 Hq Pase % P M, San Francisco, Calif.

'Hay Fever' fifth production at Lake Zurich playhouse

On July 26, 27, and 28, Lake Zurich Playhouse audiences will be presented with the play that has sent New York and London audiences into spasms of laughter, "Hay Fever" by Noel Coward. Mr. Coward has written many other favorites including "Blithe Spirit", "Bittersweet", and "Private Lives".

Heading the cast of this well known play is Miss Geraldine Page, who has been seen this summer in "Claudia", "Arsenic and Old Lace", and the title role in "Kind Lady". Her author-husband is played by Will Haas of Goodman Theatre. Also seen in this play are Lois June Nettleton, Ruthann O'Grady, Ann Frost, Bobbie Collentine, Ronny Linder, Audrey Dineen, and introducing Stephen St. John in the role of the son.

This play is presented under the capable direction of Miss Bella D. Itkin of Goodman Theatre and DePaul University. Setting and costumes by Leonor Travis.

The following week, August 2, 3, and 4, James Thurber's and Elliott Nugent's play "The Male Animal" will be presented. Tickets for these productions are now on sale at the box office.

Fish Eyes

The lens of the eye of a fish is round like a marble and not flexible, as in human eyes. The fishe's eye focuses by movement of the lens forward and backward.

Japan

Tec 5 William D. Stockdale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don B. Stockdale, residing at 610 S. State road, Arlington Heights, is with the 11th Airborne Division which is occupying Northern Honshu.

Stockdale was inducted into the army December, 1944 at Ft. Sheridan. Upon completion of basic training he volunteered for the Paratroops and was sent to Ft. Benning, Georgia where he attended Jump school. There he qualified as a Parachutist and received his wings. After qualifying he was sent overseas where he joined the famed 11th Airborne division. Stockdale's present duty with his outfit is radio operator.

Stockdale, a former student of Sullivan high school, has planned to become a mail carrier after his army career is completed.

Des Plaines soap box derby races this Saturday

Forty-three local boys, between the ages of 11 and 15, are losing a lot of sleep this week, because of the excitement in their minds over how they will come out in the big Des Plaines Soap Box Derby races to be held on Saturday afternoon, July 27th on Ellinwood street. For weeks they have been putting in all of their spare time, designing, building and testing their homemade racers, and now they are awaiting the starting gun at 2:30 p. m. to see how good their work has been.

With the exception of the Chicago Herald-American races in Chicago on August 8, 9, 10 and 11, Des Plaines is holding the only soap box derby races in this area, and a big-turnout of interested children and parents is anticipated. Prizes totaling $250 are being offered by the Des Plaines Journal, sponsors of this event in this area, and each entry also is given a regular racing helmet and shirt for the occasion. The U. S. Marine Corp will be on hand to lend color to the event and it looks like a big day for the city.

Races will be run on Ellinwood street between Pearson and River road. Everyone is welcome and there is no admission charge of any kind. Races will begin at 2:30 in the afternoon, and in case of rain, will be run on Sunday.

Veterans may still enter normal schools and junior colleges

Veterans who have not yet arranged to enter college this fall will find a restricted field, especially in the larger universities, but it is pointed out by Service Officer Walter Haynes, 41 So. Prospect ave. (above Walgreen's) in Park Ridge of the Illinois Veterans Commission that there are still several hundred openings at the state teachers' colleges and normal universities.

In addition, a number of junior colleges have made room for veterans, and the University of Illinois will care for several thousand through its 29 extension centers and the U. of I. Navy Pier branch in Chicago.

To secure tuition-free admission to the University of Illinois or the state-supported normal schools and teachers' colleges, the veteran is required to submit his application direct to the registrar of the particular school, together with his original discharge certificate, which will be stamped and returned to him.

Service officers of the Illinois Veterans Commission, on duty in every county in Illinois, will assist veterans in filing for educational and all other benefits due them as a result of their service.

Des Plaines soap box derby races this Saturday

Forty-three local boys, between the ages of 11 and 15, are losing a lot of sleep this week, because of the excitement in their minds over how they will come out in the big Des Plaines Soap Box Derby races to be held on Saturday afternoon, July 27th on Ellinwood street. For weeks they have been putting in all of their spare time, designing, building and testing their homemade racers, and now they are awaiting the starting gun at 2:30 p. m. to see how good their work has been.

With the exception of the Chicago Herald-American races in Chicago on August 8, 9, 10 and 11, Des Plaines is holding the only soap box derby races in this area, and a big-turnout of interested children and parents is anticipated. Prizes totaling $250 are being offered by the Des Plaines Journal, sponsors of this event in this area, and each entry also is given a regular racing helmet and shirt for the occasion. The U. S. Marine Corp will be on hand to lend color to the event and it looks like a big day for the city.

Races will be run on Ellinwood street between Pearson and River road. Everyone is welcome, and there is no admission charge of any kind. Races will begin at 2:30 in the afternoon, and in case of rain, will be run on Sunday.

Veterans may still enter normal schools and junior colleges

Veterans who have not yet arranged to enter college this fall will find a restricted field, especially in the larger universities, but it is pointed out by Service Officer Walter Haynes, 41 So. Prospect ave. (above Walgreen's) in Park Ridge of the Illinois Veterans Commission that there are still several hundred openings at the state teachers' colleges and normal universities.

In addition, a number of junior colleges have made room for veterans, and the University of Illinois will care for several thousand through its 29 extension centers and the U. of I. Navy Pier branch in Chicago.

To secure tuition-free admission to the University of Illinois or the state-supported normal schools and teachers' colleges, the veteran is required to submit his application direct to the registrar of the particular school, together with his original discharge certificate, which will be stamped and returned to him.

Service officers of the Illinois Veterans Commission, on duty in every county in Illinois, will assist veterans in filing for educational and all other benefits due them as a result of their service.

Organic Matter

Organic matter can be added to the soil by plowing under legumes and residues of other crops.

Helicopters may pick up local air mail

Helicopters soon will be used by United Air Lines to speed air mail between the Chicago municipal airport, downtown Chicago, the city's suburbs and other nearby communities if the Civil Aeronautics Board grants an application for such service filed last week by that company at Washington, D. C.

Operation of the first helicopter service to be offered by any airline is asked by United whose president, W. A. Patterson, indicated this might be a step toward the ultimate movement of passengers, express and freight, as well as mail, on helicopter routes feeding into airports.

"Our proposed Chicago operation would be of an experimental nature, for air mail only," the official declared. "If it should prove successful, we might very well make such service available to passengers and cargo as well as mail. Also, we might establish similar helicopter routes in other key cities along our system."

United is seeking authority to establish five helicopter routes, totaling over 211 miles in length and reaching to 32 communities in the Greater Chicago area. They are as follows:

1. Between the Chicago municipal airport and the Chicago Post Office.
2. Between the airport and Racine, with stops at Evanston, Wilmette, Winnetka, Highland Park, Lake Forest, North Chicago, Waukegan and Kenosha.
3. Between the airport and Elgin, with stops at Cicero, Oak Park, Maywood, Elmhurst, Lombard, Glen Ellyn, Wheaton and St. Charles.

Helicopters flying these routes would connect directly at the Chicago airport with incoming and outgoing flights of all 10 airlines serving this city, Mr. Patterson said. Thus they would greatly expedite the movement of air mail between points in this area and other cities throughout the country. They also would provide speedy local air mail service between communities on the routes.

The new type aircraft, which can fly vertically as well as forward and backward, would operate on two daily round trips over each of the five routes, flying a total of 846 miles each day in giving service to a total population of almost one million outside Chicago.

Here's how the system would work:

At 5 or 6 a.m., helicopters would pick up air mail posted after business hours the day before in cities throughout the East and as far west as the Pacific Coast and delivered to Chicago by the airlines. Hurrying along their routes, they would get those pouches to post offices in the various suburbs and nearby communities in time for first morning delivery. Returning, they would pick up air mail posted during the night.

Around noon, the "copters" would make another run from the airport, carrying air mail brought into Chicago by the airlines during the morning. This mail would reach the communities in time for afternoon delivery.

Late in the afternoon, following the close of business, the helicopters would start their return flights to the airport, picking up air mail posted during the day and delivering it to airliners which would reach points from coast to coast in time for morning delivery.

Attention

Car Owners

Let's be frank with one another. New car production is far behind what we had anticipated. We do not expect an immediate improvement. Most of you will have to get along with your present cars for some time yet. Therefore, we urge you not to be careless . . . but have your old car checked and serviced regularly TO MAKE IT LAST.
